State Office Salary Inequities Draw Fire

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Considerable fire on the operations of state executive offices developed on the floor of the Legislature Wednesday, in connection with the passage of Resolution 46.

The resolution was introduced by the budget committee calling for a Legislative Council study of the personnel practices of state offices and agencies.

Sen. Earl Lee, Fremont, started the fireworks after Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh, chairman of the budget committee, had explained that it was the result of difficulties that had been apparent to the committee when hearings were held on financial needs of state government.

One UnCo-Operative

Lee said that he was of the opinion that the Legislature and people of the state were entitled to know what the committee had learned. He said that he had heard rumors that one official would not co-operate in keeping salaries in different offices comparable.

The veteran Fremont legislator said that he had heard the official was in the office of the Secretary of State. He continued that he realized the Legislature can do nothing about fixing individual salaries of employees but that the "people at the polls can do something."

Lee said that he realized that it was an embarrassing question but he inquired of Bridenbaugh whether the committee had learned what he said came to him as a rumor. He explained that he heard Secretary of State Frank Marsh had hired two employees discharged from another agency for incompetency and paid them a higher wage than they previously were paid.

"That's correct," said Bridenbaugh.

Differences of $100

Bridenbaugh said that the committee found differences of $100 a month in the wages paid state employees doing the same type of work.

Lee and Bridenbaugh agreed that under present law "the governor's hands are tied" when it comes to requiring uniformity between offices of elective officials.

"Some don't observe the 44-hour work week law," Bridenbaugh explained. "We should give like pay for like work." He said that the Legislature is partly to blame when it put ceilings on salaries of certain positions.

"That only keeps the pressure on until the employee reaches the ceiling pay."

Attempt To Equalize

Sen. Charles Tvrdik said the committee should investigate those who are underpaid as well as those who are overpaid, and try and get salaries equitable.

"In the packing houses in Omaha common laborers are being paid $1.45 an hour with no training or experience," he said. "Many state workers skilled in their jobs are only receiving $225 a month.

Lee brought the debate to a close on a happy note when he read from the "50 years ago" column of a newspaper reporting on a bill in the Legislature that would have imposed a $50 fine for playing football and future playing would result in penitentiary sentences.

"Maybe some of the things we are doing now will appear equally as silly 50 years hence," he said.

Marsh Issues Statement

Marsh later issued a statement saying he was "at a loss" to know what Lee was talking about. The statement also invited the budget committee to confer with him.

"We are surprised to hear that the Secretary of State's office has been brought into a controversy over personnel and wages," said Marsh.

"We would appreciate the budget committee's discussing these rumors with us as we are at a loss to know what individuals are being referred to in Sen. Lee's statement.

"We invite the budget committee personally to investigate the situation by examining the personnel records in the office of Secretary of State. We are interested in specific cases and not generalities."

Skids Oiled For Unicam To Adjourn

Budget Bill Set To Pass Friday

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Wednesday showed the first positive evidence that it is anxious to adjourn. The budget bill was advanced to final reading, before adjournment until 2 p.m. Thursday.

By adjourning until that time the printed copy of the budget can be on the senators' desks when they convene. The printed bill must be on their desks for one day before it can be considered. So, the skids will be greased for passage of the bill and adjournment on Friday.

The Unicameral was equally firm to make certain that nothing would cause further delay. Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh sought unanimous consent to amend LB 187, the recodification of highway laws. It could not receive unanimous consent and, on a motion, failed by an overwhelming majority.

Wayne-Wakefield Road

The proposal was a continuation of the fight over the location of Neb. 35 between Wayne and Wakefield. The governor has already ordered the location on a relocation basis recommended by the Highway Department. However the Highway Commission recommended that it follow the present route.

A map, made a part of the recodified laws, shows the road on the new location. The various highways are not specifically spelled out in the bill and it was understood they will follow the general lines shown onthe map.

The Legislature adopted, by a 27-1 vote, a resolution establishing an interim highway study committee, providing a Legislative Council study for routing of proposed interstate highways through Nebraska and a possible means of providing revenue for both the interstate and regular systems in the state.

Also passed was LR 47, a memorial to past members of the Legislature who have died in the past biennium. The legislators stood in silent tribute for one minute.

Debate Erupts On Dixon-Yates

Power Pact Labeled 'Inequitable'; GOP Solon Replies 'It's Valid'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The power fight in Congress brought charges Wednesday that the Dixon-Yates contract is "inequitable" and replies that the contract between the power group and the government is valid and must be honored.

"From any point of view this is the most inequitable, most astonishing proposition ever foisted on the American people," declared Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee.

"There was and is an existing contract," countered Rep. Davis (R-Wis), who said the "unblushing" action of the House Committee in cutting out money for a Dixon-Yates transmission line was an attempt "to make it impossible to carry out the contract."

Their statements sounded the keynote for long debate over the proposal that Dixon-Yates, under a contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, feed power into the Tennessee Valley Authority system to replace energy used by AEC.

Sharp Fight

The plans for the plant at West Memphis, Ark., grew from that contract—negotiated by direction of President Eisenhower—with a power group headed by Edgar Dixon and Eugene Yates.

The proposal has brought Congress into a sharp fight on the public vs. private power issue.

The Democratic majority on the Appropriations Committee voted to cut out 6½ million dollars budgeted for a transmission line to link the Dixon-Yates plant with TVA. They voted to use the money instead for a new TVA steam generating plant at Fulton, Tenn.

Republicans now are seeking to erase from the pending $1,285,746,242 public works appropriations bill the provision to earmark money for the Fulton plant. They said this would leave the way clear for TVA to go ahead with the transmission line half way across the Mississippi River.

The only purpose of the Dixon-Yates contract, Cannon asserted in Wednesday's debate, "is to destroy the TVA. "He declared it would cost 100 million dollars more than if the power production was handled solely by TVA.

Rep. Taber (R-NY), a former chairman of the appropriations group, said TVA should not be destroyed, but insisted the agency should be required to "be honest with the taxpayers."

Taber argued that on a comparable basis with financing of private utilities TVA's rates were not sufficient to meet costs of its operation.

His remarks brought sharp disagreement from TVA supporters, including Rep. Evins (D-Tenn), a leading spokesman for TVA in the House. Evins contended Taber's figures were based upon consideration of flood control and navigation costs in the Tennessee Valley as well as power production.

Cannon, opening four hours of general debate on the bill-pending a probable start on voting Thursday—said it would determine the future of "economic democracy" in the United States.

Building At Naval Ammo Depot Burns

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Damage estimated at $65,000 resulted Wednesday when lightning struck a storage building at the Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot.

The 50 by 200 foot building stored more than three million individual fuse casings. There were no explosive materials in the structure. Not quite half the building and its contents were destroyed.

Depot fire fighters and the entire military complement fought the blaze. A disaster condition was declared when flames threatened other buildings in the immediate area.

The situation was under control within two hours, but firemen remained at the scene throughout the afternoon.

Driver Unhurt As Auto Turns Over

Leo S. Bontrager, 26, of 2942 No. 43rd, escaped injury when the car he was driving turned over on So. 10th just south of the Van Dorn Park entrance.

Bontrager was heading north on 10th at the time of the accident. Police said he applied his brakes and lost control of the car when it hit the shoulder.

The car came to rest in the east ditch facing south. Considerable property damage to the car resulted.

13th And C Accident Injures Woman; 4 Escape Unharmed

One Lincoln woman received slight sinjuries Wednesday night and four others, including two children, escaped injury in a two-car collision at 13th and C which flipped one car over on its top.

Receiving a blow on the head, bruises and slight abrasions on one leg was Shirley Gregg, 26, wife of Carr E. Gregg, 29, of 639 So. 13th, driver of one of the cars.

She did not require hospital treatment, but was to see her own physician, police said.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Gregg in their car were their two daughters, Kathleen, 7, and Carla, 3 months. Both were uninjured. Police reported that the baby was sleeping when they arrived and when awakened did not cry.

Donald W. Reed, 25, of 4150 So. 56th, was the driver of the car that struck the Gregg car. He was alone and uninjured.

Motorcycle officer Bob Summers, who investigated the accident, said the Gregg car was heading north on 13th and the Reed car was going east on C. The police report said he was traveling between 35 and 40 mph.

The Reed car hit the front end of the Gregg car and flipped over on its top on the parking at the intersection's northeast corner. It broke a stop sign in its path, spilling gasoline on the street. Both cars were damaged heavily.

Final OK Is Given Trade Bill

Action Complete On Ike Power To Cut Tariff

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate late Wednesday sent to President Eisenhower the foreign trade bill he asked extending the reciprocal trade law three years and giving him new power to cut tariffs 15 per cent.

Final passage of the long-debated measure came on a voice vote. It represents a substantial victory for the President on one of the major items on his 1955 legislative program.

However, on some of the key congressional votes on the bill, Eisenhower received more support from Democratic members than from those in his party.

The House passed the compromise bill Tuesday 347-54. The Senate had been expected to follow suit quickly Wednesday, but instead got involved in a listless debate which dragged throughout the afternoon.

Empty Seats

Most of its consisted of speeches delivered to an almost empty chamber by senators opposed to the bill. Some attacked it as too liberal, others as not liberal enough.

Teal Remains In Critical Condition

Cecil B. Teal, 42, of Springfield, and Sparta, Mo., remained in critical condition Wednesday night at Bryan Memorial Hospital after being struck by a CB&Q passenger train near 17th and Holdrege Tuesday.

Teal was hit by an Omaha-bound train while he was walking between the rails. He did not hear warnings shouted by witnesses who saw the impact.

20 Questioned By Maryland Police

. . . VICTIMS, 16 AND 14, STABBED OR SHOT TO DEATH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two teen-age girls were shot or stabbed to death Wednesday in a secluded suburban thicket and police launched an intensive search for the killers.

Chief George Panagoulis of the Prince George's County (Md.) police said 20 persons had been questioned, including a self-styled 18-year-old boy friend of one of the girls. None of the persons were named.

The dead girls were Nancy Marie Shomette, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Shomette of Lane Manor, and Michael Ann Ryan, 14, the daughter of Thomas W. Ryan, a Washington policeman. The two girls had set out together after breakfast to pick up Nancy's report card at Northwestern High School.

Each of the girls had been shot several times and there were indications they may also have been stabbed. Panagoulis said there was no indication of sexual assault.

Skinny Youth Quizzed

Police escorted one skinny, blond youth in tight-fitting pants to the murder scene late Wednesday.

Three other persons taken into custody during the day were released by police. Authorities said a 19-year-old youth, believed to be driving a 1941 Packard, also was being sought.

Panagoulis cancelled the leaves of all detectives and the District of Columbia police and the FBI offered their full assistance in solving the crime. Firemen joined in the search for the gun that shot the girls.

A barking dog led a child to the spot where the bodies of the two youngsters were found.

Slain In Picnic Area

They had apparently been slain about mid-morning in a secluded picnic area near their homes. Panagoulis said they never reached the school. Dr. John J. Maloney, Prince George's County medical examiner, reported the girls had been dead less than three hours when he examined their bodies shortly after noon.

At first police thought the girls were stabbing victims. Panagoulis said later, however, what appeared to be a great number of .22 caliber bullet wounds had been discovered in the bodies. A knife was also found near Michael's body.

7 Miles From Capitol

The picnic area is about seven miles north of the Capitol, midway between Suburban Silver Spring, Md., and College Park, the seat of the University of Maryland.

Barbara Huff, 12, stumbled on one of the bodies about 10:45 a.m. while on her way to a shopping center. She was leading a neighbor's cocker spaniel, Tiny, on a leash.

Suddenly the dog broke away from her and began to bark. She followed it to a felled tree where one of the bodies were lying. Barbara ran home to tell her mother, who called police after making a personal investigation.

Nancy Marie Shomette

Michael Ann Ryan

Police found the second body deeper in the thicket. Several .22 calibre slugs were dug out of the soft ground.

Lane Manor residents said they have been complaining to police for months about drinking parties and other disorderly conduct in the picnic area at night. Eventually the area was blocked off and motorists were refused entrance at night.

Some people, however, persisted in driving into the area, and their movements have been watched closely by residents. This led to hope for some quick leads on the crime. No one could be found immediately who had heard any shots.

Florida Judge, Wife Believed Murdered

Blood Stains Lead From Cottage To Oceanfront; Search Launched

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—One of Florida's outstanding circuit judges, C. E. Chillingworth, and his wife disappeared Wednesday and officers believed they had been kidnaped and possibly slain.

A trail of bloodstains led from the back steps of the couple's secluded Atlantic oceanfront home across the back lawn and over the beach to the waterfront, indicating they might have been taken out to sea. There were signs of a struggle at the water's edge.

Officers knew of no motive for the kidnaping, although the tall, lean, 58-year-old judge once had a reputation for dealing sternly with law violators. In recent years, he has handled only a few criminal cases.

A massive search was launched for the couple, with police, highway patrolmen, the Coast Guard and Air Force participating.

FBI Requested

Gov. Leroy Collins ordered the State Patrol to make an all-out investigation and report directly to him. Circuit Judge Joseph S. White telephoned Sen. Holland (D-Fla) and asked him to bring the FBI into the case quickly.

Officers from Palm Beach, Lake Worth, Boynton Beach, Manalapan and Lantana searched the area around the Chillingworth home for clues, while Coast Guard and Air Force planes droned overhead.

Chillingworth and his wife, Marjorie, 57, have occupied the beach home only in the summers. They have a winter home in West Palm Beach. The waterfront house, in a secluded spot, at Manalapan, 10 miles south of here, is surrounded by seagrape bushes and tall Spanish bayonet.

Disappearance of the judge, a veteran of 34 years on the bench, was discovered after he failed to show up Wednesday morning for a scheduled court session.

Night Clothing

Investigators sent to the home found it open, with the ventilator fans running and both of the family cars in the garage. The beds had been slept in but were not made and there was no sign that breakfast had been prepared.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Hiram Lawrence said officers were working on the theory that the couple had been taken out of the house in their night clothing.

They were last reported seen at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, when they left a dinner party at the home of James M. Owens Jr., Palm Beach County tax assessor. The clothes they wore to the party were found in the house, with money and other items normally carried still in the judge's pockets and his wife's purse.

There were no signs of violence in the house. A floodlight overlooking the beach had been smashed.

Dulles Flies To N.Y. Meeting With Menon

NEW YORK (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived in New York Wednesday to begin Big Three talks in preparation for President Eisenhower's "meeting at the summit" with the British, French and Russians.

The secretary also conferred for half an hour with Indian roving ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon about U.S. relations with Red China.

It was stated they also talked about Americans held in Red China and other points of friction. The two men met alone, without advisors.

Thursday morning Dulles plans to work with State Department advisors on plans for the Big Four meeting "at the summit" next month then at noon he will motor to the Riverdale section of New York to lunch with Foreign Ministers Harold MacMillan of Britain and Antoine Pinay of France.

Business Session

The luncheon meeting at the home of Sir Pierson Dixon, British representative to United Nations will be followed by an afternoon business session at the Dixon home.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was in New York Wednesday, too. But he did not see Dulles. Molotov arrived on the Queen Elizabeth and planned to entrain Wednesday night for San Francisco.

On Monday night Dulles and Molotov will sit down with MacMillan and Pinay at dinner in San Francisco to begin four power preparations for the summit meeting scheduled for Geneva on July 18.

Thunderstorm activity in Nebraska Wednesday had centered in the Grand Island area by early Thursday morning, but widely scattered showers were predicted to last until Friday.

Grand Island had some .20 of an inch of rain. Other points reporting lesser amounts throughout Wednesday were Burwell, Superior, Imperial, North Platte and Scottsbluff.

The Weather Bureau's forecast called for partly cloudy conditions through Friday with widely scattered thundershowers all day and night Thursday and "becoming more numerous Friday."

High temperatures were to fall in the 70-degree bracket.

Highs Wednesday rose higher than that, with Omaha topping the reporting station with its 84, Lincoln had 83 and Norfolk, 82. Most other points had highs in the 70s.

Paper Casualties Total Millions In Test Atom Raid

61 Cities Are Targets For Mock Bombs

EMERGENCY PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Operation Alert (AP)—America suffered "millions" of paper casualties Wednesday as hydrogen and atomic weapons theoretically plummeted down on her key cities.

Late Wednesday, the Federal Defense Administration marked up a partial, presumed toll of more than five million dead, nearly as many injured ,and millions of displaced persons posing "serious welfare problems."

President Eisenhower and key government workers, warned in advance, hurried from the national capital, set up a skeleton government in scattered hideaways within a 300 mile radius of Washington and laid plans for the nation to bounce back.

It was a vast make-believe operation—marked by a good deal of confusion which was real. There was confusion as to the number of cities attacked, uncertainty as to whether Eisenhower would go on TV and radio (he did), and a foul-up on what kind of proclamation he issued. It turned out to be a Civil Defense emergency proclamation.

More than nine hours behind time, Portland, Maine, was listed as the first city crushed in Wednesday's make-believe nuclear attack.

The addition of Maine's biggest city, a shipping and industrial center, brought the total of those attacked from 60 to 61 if Minneapolis and St. Paul are separated as they were in a late recount.

Peterson Meets Press

After the mock bombs supposedly had stopped falling and some delayed communications had straggled in, Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson flew to this press headquarters from a top level conference at a secret, mountain spot.

He told a news conference that "casualties" probably ran into the millions and Operation Alert has been "very successful."

"The government is operating this afternoon, as far as I know, very effectively," he said.

Peterson said New York presumably was hit by a hydrogen bomb equivalent to five million tons of TNT and Los Angeles by three hydrogen bombs of a million tons each.

Nine other cities he listed as H-bomb targets were Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco, Atlanta, Detroit, Knoxville, Buffalo, Philadelphia and Houston. Others were blasted by A-weapons.

No Formal Retaliation

Although the Air Force announced that "Strategic Air Command missions were launched" and planes actually put in the air, in some instances, after the warning alerts, Peterson insisted that "We are not carrying out a retaliatory phase in this operation."

President Eisenhower raced out of Washington by car at the first warning, shortly after 12:05 p.m. On the way to an emergency government command post, he signed a simulated proclamation declaring a state of Civil Defense emergency.

E. J. FAULKNER

E. J. Faulkner Receives Top National Insurance Award

Lincoln Star Special

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Edwin J. Faulkner, president of Woodmen Accident and Life Co., Lincoln, Neb., Wednesday night received the Harold R. Gordon 1955 Memorial Award at a banquet ending the annual convention of the International Accident and Health Association.

The award is described as the "highest personal tribute" of the accident and health insurance industry nationally. It was the sixth of the Gordon awards to be made.

Faulkner was adjudged to have done more for the accident and health industry during the year than any other single individual. He headed the Joint Committee on Health Insurance, a national planning group of industry leaders.

Selection was made on the basis of balloting from members of the International Association, insurance company home offices, insurance newsmen and others.

The citation noted that Faulkner was the author of "Accident and Health Insurance" published in 1940, the "first authoritative text on this subject." Faulkner is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and holds a Master of Business Administration from Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

The citation called attention to Faulkner's leadership in insurance committees and association, including presidency of the Insurance Federation of Nebraska from 1950 to 1952 and a number of national offices.

Faulkner has also served on committees of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the American Medical Association on health insurance.

Faulkner began his insurance career as a claim auditor for Woodmen Central Health Co., in 1931, was elected treasurer of the firm in 1932. He became assistant to the president of Woodman Accident in 1934 and in 1936 vice president of Woodman Central Life Insurance Co. In 1938 he became president of all three firms.

During World War II, he served as a lieutenant colonel in the army Air Force, and was awarded the Legion of Merit for outstanding achievements in the scheduling of U.S. Army Air Force aircraft production.

Union Grads Visit Here Before Taking Missionary Posts

Dr. and Mrs. Oliver Pogue, former residents, now visiting here, will become Seventh-day Adventist medical missionaries in British Guinea.

The couple will make their home in Georgetown, where Dr. Pogue will join the staff of a new hospital to open July 1.

Mrs. Pogue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Versaw, 3341 So. 48th.

Dr. and Mrs. Pogue and their five-months old son, Maynard, are visiting her parents and other relatives here before leaving Thursday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Pogue of Warba, Minn.

ConservationAssn. Asks Omaha Aid

OMAHA (AP)—M. Q. Ryan, national counselor for the Republican Valley Conservation Assn., has asked Omaha businessmen to contribute at least $2,500 for work of the association.

Ryan told a group here that enough construction is now in place so the Republican Valley would never suffer another disastrous flood, and Harry Strunk, McCook, president of the association, said every dollar spent by the group has netted $1,000 in federal construction.

The association has 30 member towns and has been in action 15 years.

Edith Hefferson Dies At Age 76

Variety Show Climaxes Three Months Of Work By Reformatory Inmates

Inmates of the State Reformatory turned their talents to music and comedy Wednesday evening and staged an hour and a quarter variety show for the public.

The boys put on the 14-act show after working on it for three months, George L. Morris, superintendent of the reformatory said Wednesday evening. It was the first attempt of its kind at the reformatory, he said.

Harry Giesselman, Jr., University of Nebraska student, directed the production which included everything from comedy to the blues.

Morris said the show was the boy's own idea. They did it because they wanted to, he added. Morris thought the show benefited the inmates and allowed them an opportunity to develop their own type of recreation.

It produces a definite advantage when a group works together, he said. Anything is a good thing that people can create and produce by this means, he added.

Statehouse HQ Supports Alert Targets

State Civil Defense headquarters at the Statehouse provided mobile support for "stricken" areas as the nationwide Civil Defense exercise got under way Wednesday.

No Nebraska communities were scheduled for bombs, but 60,000 Omaha residents were evacuated.

Some 4,000 persons at the Lincoln Air Force Base were evacuated to the city park at Seward.

As part of the exercise, Maj. Gen. Guy Henninger, state adjutant general, became national selective service director.

When the national capital with the office of National Director Lewis B. Hershey was "destroyed," duties shifted down the chain of command and wound up with the Nebraska general.

Mrs. America Assists

Mrs. Carl Deitemeyer of Lincoln, recently named "Mrs. America," assisted at the state Civil Defense headquarters here.

Austin Bacon, deputy state director, said the state test "seemed to have gone as expected."

State headquarters was charged with supplying medical aid, supplies, transportation and other services to communities in the region hit by imaginary bombs.

Tractor Kills Ceresco Man

Lincoln Star Special

CERESCO, Neb. — Floyd Nelson, 39, Ceresco farmer, was killed Wednesday in a tractor mishap a half-mile west of here.

Nelson and his father, Earl Nelson, 67, who farmed with him, were moving a manure spreader into a machine shed when the accident occured.

Sheriff Joe Divis said the younger Nelson alighted from the tractor and engaged the clutch by hand. The tractor began moving and went out of control. The backwheel knocked Nelson down and ran over the full length of his body, Divis said.

Nelson's father suffered leg injuries in the mishap. Divis said the tractor started to run up on a pile of machinery which prevented it from running over the elder man.

Surviving Nelson are his wife, Wilma; a son, Richard, daughters, Barbara, Janice and Carolyn; brother, Roy of Schuyler; sister, Mrs. Dorothy Jurgens of Ceresco; and his father.

Brent Has Surgery

OXNARD, Calif. (INS) — Actor George Brent, 51, was reported recovering from minor surgery in St. John's Hospital at Oxnard. Brent, who lives at Hidden Valley, about 30 miles distant, was brought to the hospital Monday. The nature of his ailment was not revealed.

State Polio Work Described Before Scientist Panel

Polio studies in Douglas and Lancaster Counties were discussed Wednesday evening at the Nebraska Society of Biological Scientists meeting at Bessy Hall.

Prior to a panel discussion, a film showing the development of the Salk polio vaccine was shown to the group.

Dr. Paul Bancroft, Lincoln pediatrician, Dr. Warren Engelhardt, University of Nebraska bacteriologist, and Dr. J. Harry Murphy, Omaha pediatrician led the discussions.

Dr. Engelhardt told of his work analyzing post polio outbreaks in the Huskerville area and Dr. Murphy explained his research work in Douglas County.

Municipal Band Sets First Concert

The first Municipal Band concert will be held Sunday at Antelope Park and, as a Father's Day feature, prizes will be awarded during intermission by the National Fathers Day Council to winners of a contest recently held in Lincoln junior high schools.

Soloists for the initial performance will be Homer Harrison, vocalist, and a trumpet trio of Dale Joy, Jim Pont and Don Nelson.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Scoffing CD Official Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — A District of Columbia Civil Defense official was fired right in the midst of Operation Alert Wednesday for calling the whole thing a "fiasco."

John Garrett Underhill was dismissed as Washington's deputy CD director for wardens a few minutes after sirens screamed the take-cover signal.

Underhill, a military intelligence officer in World War II, had held the unpaid job since last winter. He also had held little esteem for Civil Defense policies.

He urged district commissioners to take no part in Wednesday's test, calling it "not a drill, but a show" with hastily concocted plans. The commissioners declined.

As the operation commenced, Commisioner Samuel Spencer read published accounts of Underhill's latest blast. It was spiked with such comments as "Farce . . . If we goof off, we do so before the whole world."

Underhill recommended different planning, such as partial evacuation the threat of war—not waiting for a "yellow alert."

Spencer suggested to Col. John E. Fondahl, district CD director, that the time had come for Underhill to go. But Underhill, shunning the test, hadn't appeared at his office Wednesday. Fondahl left a message in the office for him.

Wilkinson Will Open P Street Thursday Noon

City Councilman Rees Wilkinson will cut the ribbon Thursday which will open P Street to through traffic over the Rock Island tracks at 20th.

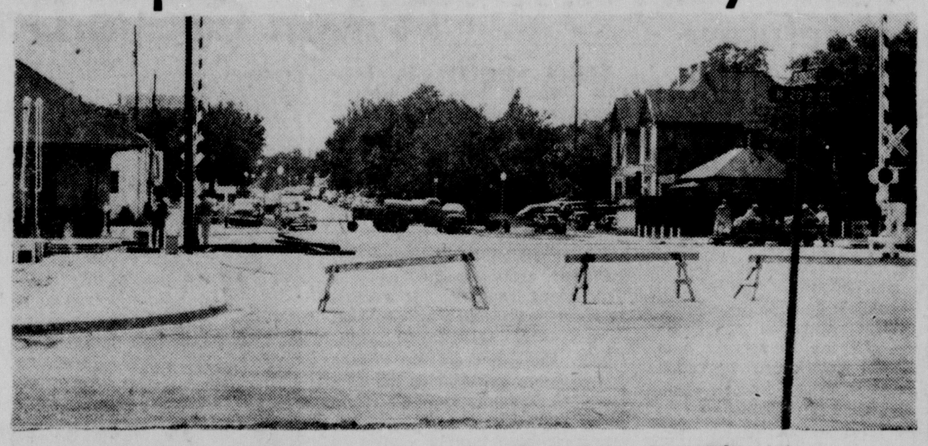

For Wilkinson, the cutting will be the culmination of years of effort to get the city and Rock Island in agreement on the project. For the city, the opening will mean a major traffic improvement that will give motoists another downtown entrance and exit from 7th to 27th.

P Street will now be of particular value during peak traffic flow periods, said Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge, and will greatly relieve congestion on O.

Representing the city at the opening, in addition to Wilkinson and Junge, will be Acting Mayor Pat Ash, City Attorney Jack Pace and City Engineer Carl Fisher. The Rock Island will be represented by Attorney Guy C. Chambers and J. C. Cartland, Fairbury, company division superintendent.

Following the ribbon cutting, the official party will be the first to drive across the newly opened street. The party will consist of all city and railroad representatives, plus Merle Hale, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Leonard Hines, chairman of the Lincoln promotion Council; and Don Felton, chairman of the P Street Improvement Committee.

The 70 foot wide crossing will be officially opened at 12 noon. The 30 foot width of the street from 20th to 27th will result in the tlimination of parking on the south side of P between those points.

The street is expected to be widened from 30 to 70 feet from 17th to 20th.

The track crossing cost the city a total of $32,503, including $14,680 for paving the crossing, $3,000 for right-of-way from private parties, and $14,680 paid the Rock Island for right-of-way and the railroad's installation of a signal system and certain track work.

Non-Shrink Kind

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Common Council has approved the purchase of 120,000 "Sanfordized" hotdogs for $3,000. The purchase was approved after Hazen L. Funk, commissioner of purchases and supplies, complained that frankfurters currently sold at city refreshment stands shrink in the cooking process.

Abel Firm President Says Jeary Got Nothing For Stock Certificate Signing

George W. Abel, president of the Abel Construction Co., testified Wednesday Mayor Clark Jeary gained no financial interest in signing three stock certificates as a director of the Universal Surety Company.

The testimony was given in the second day of a trial of the suit by William Niklaus, a private citizen, who claims Jeary benefited as legal counsel for Abel while serving as councilman and later as mayor. The suit, filed by Niklaus in the name of the city, sought return of $740,948.60 to the city for money paid the Abel firm for construction of paving districts.

The money was paid out, Niklaus alleged, during Jeary's service on the council as mayor and councilman. Niklaus charged in his suit that Jeary personally benefited from the awarding of the paving districts to Abel Construction Co.

Abel testified Wednesday that Jeary signed three stock certificates, not performance bonds as was reported Wednesday, and that these were immediately assigned to Abel. At no time, Abel said, were they in Jeary's possession and that Jeary gained no financial interest from them.

The one share of stock signed by Jeary was, Abel said, only a token gesture to qualify Jeary as a member of the board of directors of the Universal Surety Co., an action he thought was required by law.

Earlier, Theo Berg testified that 21 council records indicating Jeary had declined to vote on Abel paving districts were valid.

The mayor, intestimony Tuesday, denied he had refrained from voting on the paving districts more than once, saying a quirk in the voting system and keeping of the council records was the cause of the error.

Called to the stand Wednesday, Niklaus testified he did not own property in the paving districts under contention in the suit. He admitted to sharply-worded questioning by Atty. William Aitken that he had prepared a "majority" of the interrogatories presented in briefs to the court and that he had prepared some of the original drafts of briefs presented to the court.

Niklaus withdrew from direct questioning of Berg as the first witness Wednesday morning after objections by Aitken. The objection was made on grounds Niklaus was not, at the time, a member of the state bar.

Final testimony was expected to be heard in the case Thursday morning.

ARC Elects Ten Board Members

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (INS) — Clarence S. Beesemeyer, Los Angeles oil executive, and nine other U.S. business and civic leaders were elected Wednesday to the board of governors of the American Red Cross.

Selection of the board members came at the final plenary session of the ARC's 30th national convention, in Atlantic City. All ten were named to three-year terms on the 50-man board which sets policy for the Red Cross.

Elected in addition to Beesemyer were:

Kerney, Trenton, N.J., housewife and civic leader; Mrs. Franklin E. Parker, Greenwich, Conn., housewife active in civic, welfare, educational and social organizations; Benjamin Goodman, Memphis, Tenn., attorney; Thomas W. Gregory Jr., president, Fidelity Bank and Trust Co., Houston, Tex., and J. C. Ragsdale, El Dorado, Ark., attorney and municipal judge.

Re-elected to the board were William Ward Overton Jr., president W. W. Overton Co., Dallas, Tex., sugar brokerage firm, and Philip K. Robinson, vice president, Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Another Gift To Lincoln

Once again the city's parks have been made the recipient of someone's generosity.

Only a few weeks ago the city started work on a new baseball diamond in Antelope Park south of Sumner. This modern, well-lighted facility was made possible with an anonymous donation of $10,000.

Now the city will receive $2,618 from the Lincoln Association of Fire and Casualty Agents. This organization of Lincoln insurance agencies handles the city's fire and casualty insurance on public buildings.

Every year for the past two years, the association has placed the profits from this city business into a special fund. This fund has then been converted into an improvement for the city.

Last year the association donated a group of costly gas masks to the fire department — thankfully, a seldom needed but very essential piece of emergency equipment. This year the association will give its premium profits for playground and recreation equipment in four city parks.

The amount of money involved is not of staggering proportions but it is a gesture of fine community spirit and pride. It would have been hard for the association, also, to pick any more needed project for its funds. One of the most neglected facets of the city's park and recreation program is the equipment and facilities offered pleasure seekers. This is an area where not only gifts but city tax funds could be well spent.

Timely Action

America need not be concerned over pathologic threats to future generations by atomic radiation, Lewis P. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Commission asserts.

Strauss, apparently disturbed by reports that government experiments conducted in this country with atomic weapons are detrimental to human beings, declared that "it was an act of irresponsibility for anyone to claim that the radiation so caused might produce "future generations of monsters."

Such carefully controlled experiments, he added, are not producing enough radiation, even in their total accumulated effect thus far, to affect an individual as much as one treatment by physicians of one chest X-ray.

That is reassuring news. Nuclear phenomenon is a subject beyond the ken of the rank and file of people. It is only natural that statements delivered with conviction can be accepted as credible. Chairman Strauss acted with judgment and timeliness when he spoke out to destroy a misconception which has been rising to plague America. We can all take nuclear progress in stride again.

Head And Tail

Elsewhere in a corner on this page there appears an editorial from the powerful, widely-known St. Louis Post-Dispatch. It discusses the activities of the recently appointed head of TVA's board of directors, Brig. Gen. Herbert D. Vogel, named by President Eisenhower to that post. If the facts presented reveal the full situation with respect to TVA's directors, then it would appear that a novel undertaking which has captivated so much imagination both here and abroad in restoring health to an old region may be facing stormy days.

The editorial sets forth much unknown to most American newspaper readers.

In the news columns Wednesday, it was recorded that the President's strategists in Congress, Minority Leaders Martin and Knowland, meeting with the Chief Executive had agreed upon legislative proposals due to receive special attention as a part of the President's "must" program. Among them is the Dixon-Yates contract to supply power to TVA. Two days ago the news columns reported that Gen. Vogel had made a staunch defense of the Dixon-Yates contract for the construction of a power plant costing in excess of $100 million. The Post-Dispatch editorial charges that Gen. Vogel has ignored his two associates on the board, who in the majority are opposed to the contract. The Post-Dispatch says that he went so far, it is now revealed, as to stigmatize as "premature and presumptious" the board's majority appeal to the Budget Bureau last March to scrap the proposed Dixon-Yates power contract. "He has presumed to speak for TVA as though it were a one-man board," the Post-Dispatch adds. "When he has presented the majority's objections to his views, he has done so as though it were a majority dissent. His relations with his fellow directors have been so bad that, by his own account, after a majority vote was registered on Dixon-Yates, he refused to accept the vote, and when Dr. Curtis started to leave the room, he 'directed' him to resume his seat. Dr. Curtis then walked out."

Here is a matter richly deserving of the fullest airing by Congress. TVA can be brushed aside as purely a regional concern, and yet as a symbol of policy in the United States it becomes of national interest. There have been the repeated administration assurances that it plans no harm to TVA. It is difficult to reconcile the developments set forth by the Post-Dispatch with those assurances. The Post-Dispatch editorial merits close reading.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Among the members of Ike's team doing one of the better jobs is Lincoln's Sam Waugh, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs. Mr. Waugh may not hit the blaring headlines as often as some of those surrounding the President but the job that he fills is of high importance. And Mr. Waugh gets around, gets fully around the heavy responsibilities which fall to his post, in most admirable, efficient fashion as well as getting around the wide, wide world itself.

Mr. Waugh's schedule may have been a bit crowded late last week but this is what happened. He left Washington late last Tuesday afternoon and returned to the national capital early Sunday morning. In the course of his travels he covered 9,000 miles, most of it by air, visited six foreign countries, attended several international meetings, and as America's representative had put his signature to a group of important documents. His first leg took him to London by way of New York and Goose Bay, Labrador. Two hours in London and he was on his way to Paris. Three hours in the French capital and he was in the air again, on to Geneva by air for a two-hour stop, long enough to sign a protocol containing terms of accession of Japan to the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs. There were several other trade agreements with Switzerland to sign. Midnight found him on the train for Paris for two days of meetings and conferences, then to Luxembourg, there o confer with the president of the European Coal And Steel Community. With nightfall Saturday Mr. Waugh was on his way homeward.

Six Countries In Four Days

There is nothing easy in government service in these swift days and years. The physical burdens entailed are sufficient to tax the strength of any man. In this fast-moving world it is a matter of touch and go, with the emphasis upon "go" from early morning to late at night. It will be a matter of deep satisfaction to Nebraskans, thousands of whom know Mr. Waugh, that he has done a superb job.

It was more than a graceful, thoughtful gesture on the part of Gov. Victor Anderson to entertain the members of the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature at breakfast during what may be the closing week of this session. One of the common criticisms which critics of the Unicameral have brought against it has been that the non-partisan qualification for election to the legislative body strips the governor of an opportunity for leadership. If the governor has any feeling on that subject, he has not expressed himself publicly. Actually his relations with the Legislature have been excellent on the surface. There has been no battle between the governor's office and the lawmakers, unlike some of the hassles that have taken place in other sates which not only have two-house legislatures but provide for election of members on the basis of partisanship. The real truth is there is no outstanding partisan issue in the conduct of state business today. In each of the 48 states which have held legislative sessions in 1955, the towering, overpowering issue has been where to find revenues to meet the needs of state government. Part of that reflects the incessant demand on the part of the people for more and more services of government. And part of it can be charged to the fact that Washington has been throwing back more responsibility to the localities and to the states.

Legislative And Executive

The present controversy over highways stems largely from the fact that the individual states, recognizing the difficulty of raising adequate money for the building of the vast interstate system, hope that Uncle Sam will shoulder the bulk of it, if not all of the cost. The appeal for local communities and states to do what Uncle Sam has aided them in doing sounds good, but actually most of us have an outstretched hand most of the time for federal funds.

Don't Change It

As a token of its sincerity in cultivating better relations with the West, Thailand is agitating for a change in its traditional greeting customs. It wants everyone to start shaking hands as we do.

In Thailand a greeting has always demanded that one bow the head slightly, either placing the hands on the forehead or chest.

We got news for the Thailanders. We Westerners think they have a fine greeting arrangement and ought to keep it. It is pretty. It is hygenic. It is considerate. There are lots of times after a robust handshake when we are feeling for broken knuckles and missing fingers that we yearn for a better way—the Thailand way, for instance.

Dangerous Precedent

A news dispatch says New York Park Commissioner Robert Moses is preparing to put parking meters on the city's lover's lane. The prospect of deriving steady municipal income from a human activity that never runs out of customers, no matter what the price, is almost too much for the heart of a budget-conscious public official, it seems. But Moses is carrying things too far. Besides he is about to muscle in on Dan Cupid's racket. And it is not so much the commissioner we are thinking of. It is the suggestive effect he may have upon Dan. It would really be dreadful if the little fellow should take a look at the profit possibilities of his business and decide to bend his bow coldly upon the policy of so much per arrow.

Sen. Long Refuses Father's Footsteps

WASHINGTON — Huey Long, the late kingfish of Louisana, would turn over in his grave if he knew how his son Russell Long is lining up with some of his father's old enemies today in the U. S. Senate.

The late Huey probably had a more disruptive influence on U.S. internal government than any other man between the Civil War and Joe McCarthy. But despite his faults, he battled the big utility companies and the power trust right down to the ground. Huey was 100 per cent with the consuming public and against the power lobby.

His son, Russell has reversed his daddy on this point. For some strange reason, Sen. Russell Long has played footsie with the power companies just as much as his father fought 'em. Russell voted with the power lobby on the Dixon-Yates fight when practically every other Democratic senator lined up on the other side. And now, believe it or not, he is about to sabotage Hell's Canyon, when again almost every other Democrat a g a i n is lined up on the other side.

Hell's Canyon is the biggest undeveloped power site still remaining in the USA. In fact, it is the only remaining big Canyon dredged out by nature that can effectively be harnessed to electric power without a tremendous expense of money. All the others have been preempted by man.

Russell Long happens to hold the key in this battle between public power and the big utilities, because Russell sits on the vitally important Senate Interior Committee. On that committee are eight Democrats and seven Republicans. All the Republicans plan to vote against government operation of Hell's Canyon. All the Democrats plan to vote for government operation —all, that is, except Russell Long.

Russell says he is going to vote for the utilities and his one vote can bottle the bill up in committee.

Russell's fellow Democrats have pleaded with him. They have pointed out that if this huge damsite on the tombstone of public power in the United States. They have pointed out that if this huge damiste on the Snake river feeding Oregon, Idaho and Washington goes to private utilities, the public power fight will be lost all over the nation.

Senator Magnusson of Washington, who's up for re-election next year with tough competition from Gov. Langlie, has almost got down on his knees to Russell Long.

"I need this in my campaign," Sen. Magnusson has pleaded. "You and I have weathered a lot of storms together. This is life and death in the Northwest. On it will depend senate elections in three states — Oregon, Washington and Idaho. It's up to you."

Freedom To Think For A 17-Year-Old

Freedom of thought has taken a pretty severe going - over around our house lately.

With a son just turned 17, and fraying his nerves about the cold plunge into college next fall, it was a subject that had to be faced sooner or later at the family conference table. Lee threw it into the discussion between salad and chops.

He said he had been reading a magazine article which lamented that restrictive assaults against non-comformist thinking are making rubber-stamp morons out of the country's university students. According to the professor who wrote the article, he said, the professors were growing afraid to discuss anything but the price of grapefruit in their classrooms.

I was just opening my big mouth for an oratorical outburst when Mrs. F. beat me to it, asking the question I should have thought of. She said to Lee, "What did you think of the article?"

"Well," he said "I wondered how the man could write it if he was afraid to say what he thought."

I put a plug on my incipeint oratory, just for the sake of argument, and remarked, "Maybe he is more courageous than most of them. Maybe the average run-of-the-mill professor really is afraid to talk about controversial subjects."

"Golly," said our daughter, who is just 14 and not entirely qualified to discuss such deep subjects, "maybe what they ought to do is teach the professors some courage, huh?"

"What I can't understand," said Lee, ignoring her, "is why they call it freedom of thought. Lots of times I sit in class and disagree with my teachers, only most of the time I don't say so. I'm still thinking, though. How can anybody take away your freedom to think?"

He had me there, so I tried to explain. "It's just a figure of speech. What it really means is that if some subjects are taboo, the teacher doesn't have much chance to stimulate thought along those lines among his students."

"Why can't he just stimulate them to think, then? I mean, each them to ask questions about everything that comes along, and not be satisfied just because somebody says s o m e t h i n g is so? He doesn't help them think by teaching them to agree with him, does he?"

"You're asking the questions," I said. "As an exercise in thinking, what is your conclusion?"

"I think," he said, "that nobody can take away freedom of thought by just outlawing one subject in one place, because if a person has been taught to really think, he's going to use the ability on every subject he thinks about."

"I think," I told him, "that I'm not going to be very worried, no matter what your college professors teach, because you're too dogoned stubborn to take their word for it without doing some thinking."

I hope I'm right.

Texas Plagued By Demo Party Split

WASHINGTON—

"Do not forsake me, oh, my darling,
"On this our wedding day . . .
"I do not know what fate awaits me,
"I only know I must be brave,
"And I must face a man who hates me . . .
"Or lie a coward in my grave."
—High Noon.

It's high noon all day every day this week at Democratic headquarters as National Chairman Butler walks down the main streets of Texas.

"Shivercrats" to the right and loyalists to the left of him are already shooting from both hips. A political Gary Cooper, Mr. Butler knows only that he must be brave as the partisan turbulence of the rich and changing Lone Star state enfolds him. His own aim of course, is to appeal to Texas' traditional fealty to the Democratic party.

What the harvest will be will probably not be clearly apparent until they call the roll at the national convention in Chicago next August. Very frankly, the party now will settle for their chairman to return to them bearing no visible scars for the Republicans to hoot at.

For what Mr. Butler wants from Texas Democrats is something that it appears they have not got to give, at the moment at least. The chairman is seeking a middle way. He would accept moderate progressivism or moderate conservatism just so he got the moderation. And moderation is what Texans are fresh out of.

The Texas loyalists who invited Butler to mend fences with them have fought courageously against the machine of Gov. Shivers who bolted to President Eisenhower in 1952 and helped put the state in the Republican column. They are also liberals by conviction who have gone along with Democratic Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

But they have a failing, almost more common to liberals than to conservatives though both often are guilty of it. They are intolerant of deviation. That they find Gov. Shivers hard to take is understandable, but they have also made life difficult for people who have been trying to effect a reconciliation of the quarrel in anticipation of 1956.

For his part, Gov. Shivers has hardly bothered to put a slight gloss of repentence on his bolting, either at home or in the capital.

His welcome to Butler has so far consisted of declaring with an air of injured innocence that the loyalists have made it impossible for him to co-operate. The implication is of course that he was longing to do so.

This would hardly have been suspected from his behavior at the recent Democratic governor's conference here where he nonchalantly joined all the secret sessions but made news by vetoing the candidacy next year of Adlai Stevenson.

Texas loyalists came unexpectedly close to defeating Shivers for re-election last year. It may be that they will produce more and better surprises. The outlook, however, seems to be that Texas has joined California as a state where Democrats vastly outnumber Republicans but operate in a climate of party strife which nullifies the national contribution they might make.

TVA In Grave Danger

Editor's note: The St. Louis Post Dispatch has long been a supporter and defender of TVA. It is again concerned by the ascendency of hostile forces within the Eisenhower administration and sees a threat to the healthy future of TVA in the actions and attitudes of Brig. Gen. Herbert D. Vogel appointed by President Eisenhower eight months ago as TVA board chairman. It reveals its fears in the following editorial.

Brig. Gen. Herbert D. Vogel's extraordinary behavior on the TVA Board of Directors is finally coming to light. The board's functionings have been largely a mystery since the Eisenhower appointee became chairman eight months ago.

It has been known all along that Gen. Vogel disagreed consistently with the two directors who antedated him on the board, Dr. Harry A. Curtis and Dr. Raymond R. Paty.

But only now, with publication of testimony given last month to a House Appropriations subcommittee, has it become public knowledge that Gen. Vogel is trying to gain ascendancy over the two other directors, and to transform TVA in accordance with his own views.

The manner in which Gen. Vogel seeks to make his one vote count more than Dr. Curtis's and Dr. Paty's two is simple — and lethal. He wants Congress to designate him as TVA's "executive head." He then wants to set up his own private and personal "special management staff" which would come largely from outside TVA a n d would view TVA "objectively": i.e. as he does.

Under any such arrangement, the two-man majority of the TVA board would be scarcely more than figureheads; they would be advisers whose advice the "executive head" might not heed. The general manager of TVA, who administers the business of the agency in accordance with the politices laid down by the board of directors, would be placed in an impossible position, his office usurped by the Chairman-Executive Head.

Among the thousands of men and women who operate TVA, one group would form behind the board majority and another behind Gen. Vogel. Personal feelings would be bitter, and the affairs of the Authority would be in a condition approaching demoralization.

Soon too little of TVA that was worth saving would be left for anyone to want to fight to save it. An institution that had been the pride of the people of this country for a quarter century would have been destroyed from within.

In all this, Gen. Vogel's role does him little credit. He was asked by Sen. Gore of Tennessee, when confirmation of his appointment was being considered in the Senate, whether as chairman he would speak for the TVA board or for himself. "What you mean," Gen. Vogel replied, "is, would I suppress the majority view. The answer to that is positively no."

Yet during these eight months Gen. Vogel has never spoken for the TVA board and has always spoken for himself as chairman. Perhaps he has not suppressed the majority view, but he has subordinated it as much as he could. He went so far, it is now disclosed, as to stigmatize as "premature and presumptuous" the board majority's appeal to the budget Bureau last March 7 to scrap the proposed Dixon-Yates power contract.

He has repeatedly presumed to speak for TVA as though it were a one-man board. When he has presented the majority's objections to his views he has done so as though it were a minority dissent.

His relations with his fellow-directors have been so bad that, by his own account, after a majority vote was registered on Dixon-Yates he refused to accept the vote, and when Dr. Curtis started to leave the room he "directed" him to resume his seat. Dr. Curtis then walked out.

No wonder Representative Cannon of Missouri accuses Gen. Vogel of trying to set up a "dictatorship." This is the behavior of a martinet, of a man who does not believe in the principle of majority rule, and who is more accustomed to being obeyed than to being disagreed with.

So submerged has the board majority become that it has apparently felt obliged to make its opinions heard in Congress and at the White House without publicity. During these eight months TVA has not discharged its usual duty of giving the public its analyses and opinions of proposals affecting TVA. Instead there has only been a kind of cowed silence.

Congress has only begun to turn on the light. From here on, all Gen. Vogel does, and all he has done, should be disclosed f u l l y and promptly to the public he is supposed to be serving. Only so can the people judge how faithfully his sworn belief in the wisdom and feasibility of TVA is being borne out in practice.

A 'Sacred Cow'

Stromsburg, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Personally it irks me no end the articles that one reads in the daily newspapers about the slaughter on the highways, while nothing is ever written about the real cause which I call America's "sacred cow."

Since moving from Minnesota to Nebraska, one has been made even more aware of it when money is being spent so foolishly for radar and planes to keep the traveler down to 60 miles per hour out in the "wide open spaces." We hear so much about speed, but after all, speed is a relative thing. One can be speeding at 20 miles an hour depending upon the situation and conditions. We never hear anything about what is behind the speed and recklessness. Nothing is ever printed about the liquor bottles that are found in the wrecked automobiles. One would almost think that the press is afraid of the powerful liquor interests.

Certainly high-powered automobiles can't be the entire cause. I believe, 1936 was the high year in Minnesota and certainly you wouldn't call cars "high-powered" then. If the whole story were revealed, or if we really cared, it would be quite evident.

Much needs to be done to improve our highways, but more important, much more needs to be done to improve the condition of the driver. There is no doubt that alcoholic beverages play a great part in the high accident rate. One beer is enough to make a man think he is "king of the highway." It also slows his reaction time and easily explains the reason for a man's missing a curve and piling up in the ditch or failing to stop quickly enough to avoid an accident.

Why not begin a crusade against America's "sacred cow" and cut the accident rate by a good 50 per cent? Any highway patrolman will readily admit that liquor is involved in over 50 per cent of the cases. I have asked many of them in several states. Some admit that is as high as 80 per cent.

We got so excited recently over a comparatively few cases of polio contracted by youngsters who had been vaccinated with the Salk vaccine. Why don't we really get excited about America's No. 1 killer? Let's quit kidding ourselves!

We Americans are good at shooting around the issues. Let's begin to shoot at them!

Two Philosophies

Hebron, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Socialism versus free enterprise—while they are two very different philosophies of government, they both have their places in a free government.

When we speak of free enterprise, we mean privately-owned business such as large industrial plants, railroads and utilities financed by the sale of stocks and bonds. These are called corporations. Retail merchants, farmers, in fact all lines of business financed by one individual or more are companies. It is the private enterprise that has made this country great and strong. I don't believe there is anybody in this country in his right mind who would want to socialize these enterprises.

The socialist in this country took over the necessary enterprises where private investors and organized capital feared to invest for the reason that they would not pay the expense of operation. So it became necessary for small governmental subdivisions to build them or go without.

The socialist enterprises are those that serve the general public and are built and financed by the taxpayers served. They cover such utilities as city water systems, electric light and power, irrigation, flood control with hydro-electric plants in connection, and one might add public schools, sewer systems, street paving, public highway construction and colleges, all built by and financed by the taxpayers for the good of the general public.

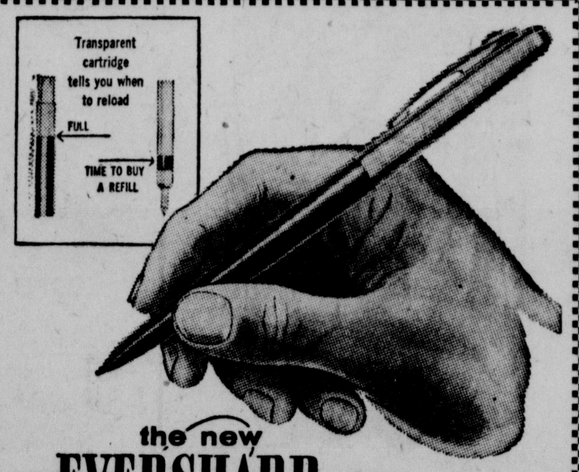

When these enterprises become a paying investment, the corporations are ready to take them over and operate them at a profit, and generally raise the rates for the service. It is these publicly-owned utilities that President Eisenhower calls "Creeping Socialism" and would retard their growth, and has done so in some places. Now, practically all these socialist utilities are paying their way and a big share of the expense of the subdivision they serve. Can any fair-minded citizen give any good reason why they should be turned over to private ownership now simply because they are socialist?

PERON EXPELS 2 CATHOLIC PRELATES; HUNDREDS OF PARISH HOUSES SEARCHED

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Juan D. Peron's police expelled two Roman Catholic prelates Wednesday and swooped down upon hundreds of parish houses in a search for documents.

The prelates, after being held overnight on the basis of government charges that they incited riots and other disorders, were put aboard a plane bound for Rome. They are the Rt. Rev. Manuel Tato of Buenos Aires, and the Rt. Rev. Roman Pablo Novoa, canon deacon of the archdiocese. They were taken into custody for questioning Tuesday soon after the government issued a decree ordering them dismissed from their church posts.

As auxiliary bishop, Msgr. Tato recently has been in effect head of the Catholic church here. The archbishop, Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello, has been ill and unable to perform many of his duties.

Both Msgr. Tato and Msgr. Novoa are natives of Argentina.

Federal police raided all of the 120 homes and offices of parish priests in the capital and its suburbs, seeking evidence to support the government's contention that the church was responsible for violent clashes between Catholics and Peron supporters last weekend. At least 20 persons were injured in these disorders.

A police official said handbills criticizing Peron and defending the church were seized in the raids. In some instances, he reported, the parish offices and meeting rooms of Catholic action societies were sealed and placed under guard.

Reports received here indicated the police may have visited most of the 1,500 Catholic parishes in the nation.

The expelled prelates had been under fire from Peron and the progovernment press for several days.

The church has officially denied responsibility for the disorders and said instead that the Catholics were victims rather than aggressors.

A source at the Vatican said that if the government ordered the expulsion, Peron, who is a Catholic and other officials almost certainly would be subject to automatic excommunication. Canon law provided that "all those who emit laws, mandates or decrees against the freedom and rights of the church are struck by excommunication."

A church source here said expulsion of native citizens had rarely if ever before been ordered in Argentina.

PRELATES TELL OF ORDEAL WITH POLICE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The two Roman Catholic prelates who were hustled out of Argentina Wednesday without even a change of clothing told on their arrival here of their ordeal with police and the Peron regime's campaign against churchmen.

A reporter for the newspaper O Globo interviewed the Rt. Rev. Manuel Tato and the Rt. Rev. Roman Pablo Novoa at the airport. He said they apparently are under watch of two Argentine detectives on their enforced flight from Buenos Aires to Rome in an Argentine air liner.

In telling generally of the treatment of the clergy by the Peron regime, Msgr. Tato, auxiliary bishop of Buenos Aires archdiocese, said he wanted to give his first complete report to the Pope himself.

"The Argentine police kept us incommunicado in prison Tuesday, refusing us permission to communicate with our superiors or to obtain a few additional clothes for our journey," he said.

Msgr. Tato denied accusations that Catholic demonstrators in Buenos Aires had burned the Argentine flag and stoned the plant of the newspaper La Prensa, as charged by the pro-government press. He said these acts were committed by adherents of President Peron in an effort to increase the government's pressure against the Catholic church.

Polio Foundation Would Handle Shots-For-All Plan If Vaccine Is Furnished

O'Connor Won't Take Sides On Salk Planning

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Wednesday his organization would undertake an inoculation program for all American children if the government furnished it with the new Salk polio vaccine.

Basil O'Connor of New York made the statement reluctantly and after being questioned about the situation at some length by Democratic members of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

O'Connor said the foundation has the competency to administer such a nationwide program, but that "at the moment it has no wish on it." He added that he regarded the vaccine as being "now in the area of public health and governmental responsibility."

The foundation, which played a large part in developing the Salk vaccine, is financing the program of first and second shots for all school children in the first and second grades. At present it has sole access to the vaccine being made by the six licensed manufacturers.

All Youngsters

Two rival plans are before the Senate Committee, an administration proposal to appropriate 35 million dollars to provide vaccine for needy children and a Democratic-backed bill to furnish vaccine to all youngsters through the age of 19.

O'Connor refused to take sides on the legislation.

"Our chief interest is that, having developed a safe vaccine, it be given to as many children as possible and thus prevent as much polio as possible with all its disastrous results," he said.

The American Medical Assn. told the committee there is no "emergency" requiring that the vaccine be made available to all children. It opposed the Democratic proposal for free vaccine.

Pace Defend City's Zoning Right For NU Housing Plat

There is no question of the city's legal right to regulate, through its zoning laws, the use of land on which the University of Nebraska intends to erect a number of multiple dwelling units for married students, according to a Wednesday ruling.

The ruling was made by City Attorney Jack Pace in answer to questions from various parties. The proposed University housing project on the south side of Holdrege between 38th and 39th has stirred the neighborhood into organized opposition to the move.

Neighbors have stated they are not opposed to a duplex type of development but that the multiple-unit plan of the University would overcrowd the land.

To erect the eight-to-12 unit structures planned, part of the back portion of the tract involved must be changed in zoning from single family to multiple dwelling. The front or Holdrege side of the tract has already been so zoned.

Attorney Joseph J. Cariotto, will represent opposing property owners before the City Council Monday when that body will consider the proposed zoning change.

Pace said that if the project were in the nature of an educational building, there would be serious question of the applicability of the city's zoning law. Since the project is in the nature of a proprietory or business function, however, the city's zoning laws do apply, Pace said.

Regulatory municipal laws generally do not apply to purely governmental activities. The city, for instance, was not governed by the zoning laws in erection of the new Pershing Memorial Auditorium at 15th and N.

STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

I have been wondering what happened to flying saucers. Now that the weather has turned good and attractive to tourists.

A year ago, flying saucers were all over the world. They went whooshing by airline pilots and sailed over startled Illinois farmers. Only a few people got very near them.

The best contact, however, was made by Mr. Truman Bethurum who got on a space ship from Clarion. Not once but 11 times.

Mr. Bethurum was working on a road crew in the Nevada desert. One night he woke up in his truck and found it surrounded by little men from a nearby space ship. They took him aboard where he met their beautiful woman captain Aura Rhames.

Once Captain Aura Rhanes told him she would take him on a trip to Clarion. She said he could bring a few friends. Truman said he would take me along if it could be arranged.

Since seeing you last, I attended a wedding," she told Truman. "Hundreds of guests were there, some from other planets. It was definitely a more lavish affair than anything you have seen on earth."

She told Truman it was like a big Fourth of July celebration. They had beauty parades, a fashion show and dancing.

"The wedding united a lovely maiden and the handsome son of our master plumber. The families and many friends of the bride and groom from the many planets assembled. All of their friends of long standing were there to wish happiness to the lovely pair, and everyone mingled around.

"The bride as virgin brides do on many planets wore a beautiful gown of white satin and lace and a long trailing veil crowned by a coronet of fragrant blossoms.

Captain Aura Rhanes said everybody danced until dawn.

"They will settle down in a lovely town and enter a business together. The husband will attend to all the outside chores around their home and his wife will manage the house."

Mr. Bethurum asked please, what did she wear. He was afraid if he went home without this information his wife would give him fits. It showed Mr. Bethurum was a smart man and had been married some time.

"My outfit," said Captain Aura, "was of modest style. Shoes, hat, bag and accessories, like my gown, were of a gorgeous cinnamon brown. As all the ladies lined up to bid adieu, the gentlemen kissed their hands. Their fingers were fitted with diamond rings. Many had golden bands. Mine was regal, with a silvery hue and the settings were azure, our royal blue."

Mr. Bethurum said he surely hoped he could go to such a wedding some day. Captain Aura said she thought it could be arranged.

But as I say, that was 1952. And though Mr. Bethurum has written a book on his amazing experience and gone back to the desert many times, the space ship from Clarion has not come back. He expects it will though. Any day.

Quad Boys Born In Connecticut

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Four boys, the second quadruplets in Connecticut history, were born Wednesday to Mrs. Kenneth Barne 39, of New Haven. Seven hours later authorities at St. Raphael's Hospital reported two of the babies had died.

Sister Louise Anthony, assistant director of the hospital, said the remaining two were "holding their own."

Mrs. Barnes was reported in good condition.

The babies, all identical, were delivered by Caesarian section and weighed approximately two pounds each at birth. Two of them were placed in an air locks apparatus designed to aid their breathing.

The father is Kenneth G. Barnes, 32, employed as a cutter grinder on the day shift at the Pratt & Whitney division of the United Aircraft Corp. The Barnes have one other child, a son Dominic, 2.

Evacuation To Seward Goes Off Well

By BARC BAYLEY
Star Staff Writer

The little city of Seward, Neb., Wednesday almost had its population doubled as more than 2,500 Lincoln Air Force Base personnel and dependents descended on the city park there.

The practice evacuation was part of national civil defense test. "Civilian" Lincoln did not participate.

The huge convoy of civilian vehicles formed at 10 a.m. and hit the road promptly at 11:13. The three main elements of the convoy of some 400 vehicles had completed the move by 12:15 and were setting up camp in the park.

Each of the three elements was led by an Air Police truck and medical, gas, repair, and supply vehicles were interspersed among the passenger autos.

Three-Fifths of Base

Some three-fifths of the base population was involved. Many dependents who live in Lincoln also participated.

The convoy maintained a speed of 30 m.p.h. for the 20-mile trip. The column was so long that the head was in Seward while the tail was just leaving the base.

While everyone appeared aware of the grim purpose of the maneuver, a certain picnic air could be noticed. Many of the women herding small children and even a few dogs, had prepared picnic baskets and the shady riverside park also fostered the impression.

Guards Remind

Guards, in full field equipment and armed with carbines and pistols, served as reminders that these people were not pleasure-seekers but refugees from a mock nuclear bombing raid.

Farmers and townspeople along the route, some smiling, some puzzled, some expressionless, paused in their work to watch the procession pass.

Welcome signs and American flags decorated the lamp-psots in downtown Seward. One group of children on the city's outskirts held up a "Welcome to Seward" sign, waved a flag, saluted and shouted as the cars slid past.

An old man, sparse white hair askew and clothes hanging on his rawboned frame, stood at attention alongside the road holding a bucket in one hand as he held his battered hat over his heart in salute with the other.

For airmen and those who brought no food, "C" rations were distributed from a huge van.

In the command post the director of the operation, Lt. Col. Thomas Powell and his deputy, Lt. Col. Charles E. Dean, issued orders and directions as the minor problems arose.

Everything went smoothly, only one car had to fall out as the convoy moved along. It had a flat tire.

The long string of autos was directed smoothly to the 20-acre park by Air Force guides. The park had been prepared by a control group that arrived earlier.

Meanwhile Nebraska's other trial evacuation in Omaha went off without a hitch.

William D. Noyes, director of operations for civil defense there, estimated the evacuating crowd at not more than 30,000.

Observers in airplanes and on the ground, and authoirities in other towns, didn't offer too much support to that figure.

The biggest stream of cars apparently went to Blair, north of Omaha. Civil Defense estimated 2,500 cars carried 10,000 persons.

Offutt Air Force Base's evacuation, separate from Omaha's, took 6,600 airmen and families to the Mead-Wahoo area in 2,000 cars.

The traffic stream on Dodge Street, main artery west out of Omaha, was "about 10 miles long and heavier than an average football crowd," estimated Nebraska Safety Patrol Capt. Don Shearer, who flew over the area. This would indicate about 750 cars carrying perhaps 3,000 persons.

Takahashi Named

TOKYO (Thursday) (INS)—Veteran newsman and election law expert Yusai Takahashi, 65, has been appointed vice-president and top director of Yomiuri Shimbun, one of Japan's largest and most influential dailies with a nationwide circulation of 2,800,000. Takahashi's appointment fills the vacancy created earlier this year by the death of Shoji Yasuda and makes him number two man next to Yomiuri's owner, Matsutaro Shoriki.

Escapee Enlists

NEW YORK (AP) — A former Polish air force pilot, who escaped to Denmark in his MIG plane two years ago, enlisted in the U.S. Air Force.

The flier Jerzy (Jerry) Jazwinski, 24, married an American girl six weeks ago and now lives at Garden City, N.Y.

Gradual Plan

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The State Board of Education adopted a plan for effecting gradual desegregation in state supported colleges.

The plan, adopted in a special meeting, calls for admission of graduate students of both races to all state colleges in 1955-56. Seniors of all races would be admitted in 1956-57, juniors the next year, sophomores the following year and freshmen by 1959-60.

The day Grandma almost fell over Niagara Falls

"HEAVENLY DAYS!" cried Grandma, grabbing for the rail.
But there wasn't any rail—not in our living room.
"Easy, now," I said, "it's only a picture."
"Picture, my foot," she snapped. "I ought to know Niagara Falls when I see it. I spent my honeymoon there. Now, just tell me what happened."
"Well," I said, tickled to pieces, "you're looking at stereo pictures."
"Don't try to fool me, son," she cried, "I know a stereoscope when I see one. This thing doesn't even have a handle."
"Grandma," I said quietly, "you're out of date. This is modern stereo. Color transparencies. Viewer with its own light source. So realistic it took you back to the Falls for the first time in fifty years."
"Let's have another look," she said, "but if you don't mind, I'll sit down first. Can't fall over a cliff at my age."

TODAY'S full-color stereo pictures are something you really have to see to believe. Come in and let us show you scenes so real you'll want to walk right into them.
And after you have looked at the color slides that let you see and be there, ask to see the new Kodak Stereo Camera. Pick it up and note how perfectly balanced it is—how nice and natural it feels. Look through the big finder that shows you exactly what you're shooting. (Note the spirit bubble to keep your images level.) Examine the fast setting zone-focusing dial; the smooth shutter action. Check the no-threading, drop-in film loading arrangement, the convenient flash outlet—smart, two-tone styling.
Then look at the price tag on the Kodak Stereo Camera. Just $84.50 with precision-mounted, coupled f/3.5 lenses, color-corrected and Lumenized (coated) for extra sparkle.
Drop in for a free demonstration. Terms arranged if you wish.

Ike 'Flees' To Guarded Hideout

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

EMERGENCY WHITE HOUSE, (AP) —President Eisenhower directed government operations Wednesday night from this secret mountain hideaway after "fleeing" from a sham nuclear bomb attack which theoretically razed Washington.

The President arrived at the relocation center by automobile at 6:10 p.m., — six hours and five minutes after leaving the capital as sirens wailed the approach of "enemy" bombers.

En route here Eisenhower stopped for three hours at another key relocation area. He met there for 90 minutes with several Cabinet members and other key administration officials.

He also went on nationwide radio and television briefly to tell the people "We are here to determine whether or not the government is prepared in time of emergency to continue the function of government so that there will be no interruption in the business that must be carried on."

Army Tent

Serious and even somewhat grim about it all, the President spoke from an Army tent erected at the relocation center.

About all that can be written about this emergency White House is that it is located in a wooded, mountainous area within the 300 mile radius from Washington in which the President and 15,000 other government employes scattered Wednesday.

Immediately on his arrival, Eisenhower went to work on a stack of official papers with Col. Andrew Goodpaster, secretary of the White House staff and liaison man with the Pentagon.

Plan Canceled

The dozen newsmen accompanying the President were told on arrival they would be admitted to the headquarters briefly while the photographers got pictures of Eisenhower at work. That plan was canceled a few minutes later, however, and none of the newsmen was admitted.

On hand here when the President drove up was a White House staff of some 30 people, including such top aids as Harold E. Stassen, in charge of disarmament problems, and Nelson A. Rockefeller, special assistant for psychological warfare.

This entire area is under heavy military guard. As they approached the center newsmen caught glimpses of guards stationed in the woods along the highway. White House aids said others were patroling the area closer in with fixed bayonets.

Boys State Senators Pick Speaker

The 1955 Boys State Unicameral Legislature began formal organization proceedings Wednesday with the election of Robert W. Johnson of Omaha as Speaker.

Hugo Srb, clerk of the Nebraska Legislature, kept a watchful eye on the proceedings, which were presided over by Wes Barry Jr. of Sidney, newly elected Lt. Governor of the mythical state.

The Boys State Legislature is set up and operates under the same rules as the Nebraska Legislature.

Since most of the morning was spent in learning the mechanics of organization, the Speaker was the only officer elected.

Others Named Thursday

Other officers and committee members will be selected Thursday. Bills will also be introduced at the Thursday session.

Before the organizational meeting, ex-Senator Robert McNutt of Lincoln talked to the boys about the Nebraska Legislature and explained how it works.

One of the high points of the day's activity was a film, "This Is West Point," which was presented by a former Boys Stater who is now cadet at the U.S. Military Academy.

Cadet John H. Shimerda of Swanton, a Boys' Stater in 1952, preceded the film with an informal talk about his experiences as a first year student at the Academy.

Hardin Talks

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska welcomed the Boys Staters to the University campus Wednesday night.

Hardin told the group that "the American idea of democratic government is one of the greatest gifts that one generation in this country hands to the next."

Following the Chancellor's address, the group ended the day's activities by viewing a film on court procedure.

During the day the group also heard talks by Dr. Walter K. Beggs, a member of the University of Nebraska Teachers College staff, Walter D. James, State Revisor of Statutes, F. B. Decker, State Commissioner of Educaton, and Franz C. Radke.

Pardon Board Commutes Two 2nd Degree Murder Sentences

The State Pardon Board Wednesday commuted the sentence of William Erdman, 44, of Wymore, Neb., convicted of second degree murder, from 25 to 17 years in the state Penitentiary.

Erdman, sentenced in 1948 by Gage County District Court, sought a parole from the board.

He had pleaded guilty to the second degree murder charge following the fatal shooting of Fred Trauernicht at the Trauernicht farm home five miles southeast of Wymore in January, 1948.

The records show that Erdman, carrying a .22 revolver, had gone to the Trauernicht home in search of his estranged wife, who had filed divorce proceedings. Trauernicht was shot when the two men grappled. He had been called to the scene by Mrs. Trauernicht.

The board Wednesday commuted the second degree murder sentence of Charles Milo Plumb, 71, Ardmore, S. D., to effect Plumb's immediate discharge. He left the state prison immediately following the hearing.

Plumb was sentenced to 25 years in the state Penitentiary in connection with the 1945 slaying of Jerry McCarthy. The bullet-riddled body was found in a haystack on McCarthy's Sioux County farm.

Plumb's record includes a six-year term in the South Dakota prison on a charge of moonshine possession.

Skills Of Refugees Adapted To State's Resources--McLeod

U.S. State Department Security Chief Scott McLeod has told Gov. Anderson's Refugee Relief Committee that Nebraska, with its agricultural and industrial resources, can take greater advantage of skills offered by overseas refugees.

Deputy Secretary of State Roland Luedtke, executive secretary of the committee, Wednesday said that McLeod urged greater emphasis on the Nebraska program at a meeting in Omaha.

McLeod, who heads the State Department's refugee relief program, told the committee that the "number of assurances from individual citizens to bring in refugees will have to be greatly increased if we are to reach the number of visas authorized" by the Refugee Relief Act.

Luedtke said McLeod commended Nebraska citizens for providing over 200 assurances but urged greater efforts.

The entire estate of Orin Stepanek, University of Nebraska professor of English and Slavonic languages, who died June 4, has been left to his widow, Olga, of Lincoln. The will was filed for probate in County Court.

The will was dated Dec. 8, 1953.

2 Plead Innocent To Theft Charges

Burglary charges filed against two men, one who gave his address as the City Mission, resulted in not guilty pleas in County Court Wednesday.

Arraigned were James William Endicott, 38, of Kansas City, Mo., and John Melia, 40, City Mission.

Both pleaded not guilty in the theft of clothing and other items from a room at 144 No. 10th over the weekend. Both were placed under $3,000 appearance bond and preliminary hearing set for June 25.

BOB HOPE HAS TANGLE WITH GLASS TABLE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope Wednesday fell through a glass table on the Menger Hotel patio while entertaining the staff of a San Antonio TV station. He suffered a slight injury.

Hope was serving breakfast to the staff, and while clowning around leaped on the top of a table. A tablecloth prevented him from seeing it was glass.

He fell heavily through the table, receiving a laceration of the ankle. It did not interfere with his scheduled program.

Raymond Hruby High Distinction Graduate

Raymond R. Hruby, son of Mrs. Rose M. Hruby of Ceresco, was one of 14 persons who were graduated from the University of Nebraska with high distinction.

His name was inadvertently omitted from the list of persons honored for high scholastic achievement.

Hruby received his degree from the College of Business Administration.

Kay D. Jones, another Business Administration graduate with high distinction, was erroneously listed as the daughter rather than the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Jones, Fairbury.

Committee Recommends Webster, Frazer Okay

The Legislature's Committee on Committees Wednesday recommended confirmation of the appointment of Dr. W. W. Webster, Lincoln, and the reappointment of Dr. Maurice D. Frazer, Lincoln, to the State Board of Health.

Action by the Legislature is expected Thursday.

Dr. Webster replaces Dr. Donald T. Waggener, Lincoln, as the dental member of the board. He has served as a member of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Board of health, chief of oral surgery at the University of Nebraska, and a consultant to the Air Force and the Veterans Hospitals at Lincoln and Grand Island.

Dr. Frazer is one of the two medical members of the board.

Garageman Admits Guilt In Arson Case

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—Bert Hamm, whose garage at Scribner burned Monday night with a loss he estimated at $33,000, pleaded guilty in justice court here Wednesday to charges of second degree arson and burning to defraud.

Dodge County Attorney William G. Line said Hamm at first denied having anything to do with the fire, then admitted it and signed a confession.

Line said Hamm related that he went to the garage Monday night and, while lighting his pipe, noticed a pile of wrapping paper and car floor fibre sweeping in a corner.

Hamm then said he began to think about "how much he owed" and how, if the garage burned, "the insurance company would pay off," Line said. Then Hamm said he tossed a match into the pile of litter and walked away.

He told Line he stayed at the garage for about a half hour, smelled smoke as he prepared to leave and "knew its source."

Line said he had become suspicious about the fire because he had received a $1,000 insufficient fund check written by Hamm. He and Sheriff Pelham McGee, investigating the check, went to Scribner and found agents of the state fire marshal's office investigating the blaze. A double probe—of the check and the fire—then began.

GONE FOUR DAYS— SEES SIX NATIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Making a fast plane trip to Geneva, Switzerland, to sign new trade agreements with Japan, Asst. Secretary of State Sam Waugh visited six countries in four days last week.

Enroute, Waugh stopped in England, then flew to Geneva to sign for the United States the new agreements under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT).

Afterward he stopped in Paris for a conference with officials of the Organization for European Co-Operation (OEC), flew to Luxembourg to confer with Jeane Monnet of France, former head of the coal and steel community, and then headed for Washington, with stops in Iceland and Canada.

Hruska Introduces Reclamation Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation authorizing construction of the Ainsworth irrigation and reclamation unit in Nebraska was introduced by Sen. Hruska.

Similar legislation was previously introduced by Rep. A. L. Miller and hearings on Miller's bill will start Thursday before a House Interior Subcommittee.

The legislation would give congressional approval to the project on the Niobrara River as a part of the Missouri Basin project. Construction money would have to be obtained later.

Siebert Arraignment Scheduled Thursday

OMAHA (AP) — Walter E. Siebert, Grand Island, will be arraigned in Omaha Thursday before Federal District Judge James A. Donohoe.

Siebert, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank in Grand Island, was indicted on seven counts of embezzlement.

Deputy U.S. Attorney William C. Sprie said the indictment by a federal grand jury accuses Siebert of embezzling monies paid in on loans and falsifying entries on the bank's books to cover it.

Siebert is free on $1,500 bond.

Insect Control Lecture Tops Ag Field Day

Insect control measures, grain varieties and fertilizer methods will be discussed at Crops and Soils Field Day, to begin at 10 a.m. Friday at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Surveys by the University entomology department show that grasshopper as well as corn borer population is increasing rapidly in Nebraska. Control measures will be discussed Friday morning.

Dr. O. J. Webster will discuss the hybrid sorghum testing program and stock availability. The Foundation and Certified seed programs will also be discussed, and wheat, oat and barley varities will be displayed.

During the afternoon tour of the Agronomy Farm at 74th and Adams methods of applying commercial fertilizers will be demonstrated.

Sexton To Cherokee

CHEROKEE, Ia. (AP)—Lloyd W. Sexton, 43, of Lyons, Neb., Tuesday was named superintendent of Cherokee public schools. Sexton, a veteran of 19 years as an educator, replaced R. E. Creel, who resigned last spring after 26 years as school superintendent here.

MILLER ASKS FUNDS FOR LINE

. . . TO OFFER PUBLIC WORKS BILL AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb) said Wednesday he will ask the House to vote $9,300,000 for construction of a 230 - kilovolt transmission line between Ft. Randall Dam in South Dakota and Grand Island, Neb.

He said he plans to offer an amendment Thursday to the public works appropriations bill for this purpose.

Nebraska supporters of the proposed line contend it is necessary to bring needed Missouri River power into their state during the next decade. The Bureau of Reclamation had recommended a 115-kilovolt line between Ft. Randall and Neligh, Neb., at a cost of $940,000. The House Appropriations Committee last week refused to recommend any money for such a line, commenting there seemed to be differences of opinion on just what is needed.

In a statement prepared for the House, Miller said that since Nebraskans testified some weeks ago before a House appropriations subcommittee agreement has been reached by public power agencies in Nebraska to accept delivery of power at Grand Island from the now-building Oahe Dam on the Missouri River above Ft. Randall.

Extra power will be needed for pump irrigation, Miller said. He said statistics given the subcommittee indicate that the heavy line is feasible and will pay for itself.

The 15 rural public power districts, Miller said, are willing to contract for 83,000 kilowatts of power for irrigation pumping by 1962.

Miller said he felt subcommittee members' comments in turning down the budget request for a 115-kilovolt line from Ft. Randall to Neligh indicated they felt a heavier line would be needed to meet Nebraska's needs.

Sidney Postmaster Indicted On Embezzlement Charges

OMAHA (AP) — Donald Russell Shipman, 44, Sidney, Neb., postmaster, has been indicted on seven counts in connection with embezzlement of post office funds, the U.S. District Attorney's office said Wednesday.

The indictment was returned by a federal grand jury which concluded its work last week.

Deputy U.S. Attorney William Spire said Shipman was arraigned before a U.S. commissioner at Sidney and posted $1,500 bond.

Spire said the indictment included four counts of embezzlement and three of making false reports to cover shortages.

He said the total involved ed to $600 from various post office funds.

Ag Official Tells Poultrymen:

Egg Law Needs Educational Program

A large group of poultry industry representatives including producers, hatcherymen and egg marketers attending Nebraska Better Egg Day here Wednesday were told that an educational program is necessary on all levels to make the new egg improvement law effective.

Wyatt Cannaday, of the State Department of Agriculture and Inspection, said, "The law feels if you are going to deal with eggs you should know enough about eggs to meet the law."

This means that anyone who handles eggs, from the producer on up to the consumer, should learn a lot about eggs before the law goes into effect, 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

Information about eggs that should be known includes egg anatomy and physiology, importance of prompt regular gathering of eggs, effect of prompt precooling on egg quality, procedures of market preparation of eggs, temperature and humidity factors on egg quality, sizing and grading of eggs, and provisions of the law.

Frank E. Mussehl, chairman of the University of Nebraska department of poultry husbandry, told the group that the object of the law is not to put people in jail, but to improve Nebraska's eggs.

'In explaining the reasons behind the law, Glenn Thacker, University of Nebraska extension poultryman, reported that in 1954 the average egg price in Nebraska was 26.6 cents, compared to the United States average of 36.8 cents.

"The difference is not in transportation, but in quality and marketing methods," he said.

Morning sessions of the meeting were devoted to discussions of the reasons for the law, the procedure for its administration and the need for a thorough information program.

Speakers included Bruce Lauth and Doyle Free of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association and Howard Wiegers of the University poultry husbandry department.

Hebron Helps Udall

Lincoln Star Special

HEBRON, Neb.—The disaster fund collected here for relief of the tornado-devastated town of Udall, Kan., now totals $1,919.42, Jim Kenner, fund treasurer, reported.

Mayor M. L. Christensen, chairman of the fund-raising committee composed of heads of local organizations, said checks for the entire amount will be mailed this week.

The committee has decided to divide the fund into two parts. A check for $1,000 will be sent directly to Mayor Earl Rose of Udall to be used for whatever officials of the Kansas town decide.

The remaining $919.42 will be sent for administrative purposes to John Diller, co-ordinator for the central Kansas Mennonite disaster organization which gave invaluable aid after the 1953 tornado in Hebron.

Diller's group will distribute this part of the fund directly to Udall families on the basis of actual need.

Local committee members believe that in the excitement and confusion of relief operations some families may be passed over or neglected and these they hope to aid through the money sent in care of the Mennonite organization.

SEATON PROMOTED TO DEPUTY ASSISTANT

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday promoted Fred A. Seaton, former GOP Senator from Nebraska, from administrative assistant to deputy assistant to the President in a triple shuffle of White House duties.

He also raised the rank of Howard Pyle, former Republican governor of Arizona from administrative to deputy assistant, and appointed Edward T. Tate, Bethesda Md., Republican, to succeed Charles F. Willis, Jr., who quit Tuesday as a special assistant handling personnel matters.

Seaton

Seaton has been administrative assistant to the President for liaison with Congress since Feb. 21. He is now to handle liaison with all Federal departments and agencies.

A Hastings, Neb., newspaper publisher and member of the President's 1952 campaign staff, Seaton moved to the White House from the Pentagon where he was assistant secretary of defense for legislative and public affairs.

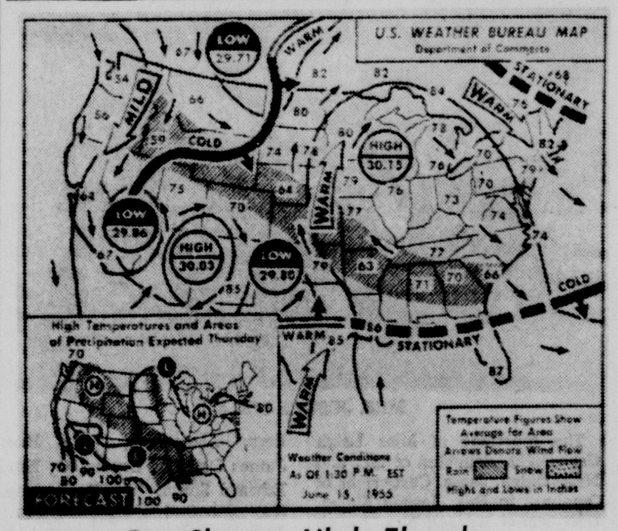

Pyle became administrative assistant last Feb. 1. He has been handling relations with the Federal agencies and state governments. The White House said these assignments have taken in too large a field for one man and they are being split, with Seaton now given the job of handling federal department relations with the White House.

NEWS OF GUESTS

Guests From Illinois

It's a merry household at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Campbell who have as their house guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Campbell, Jr., and their three children, Leslie, Bruce and Jamie Lynn. The Campbell fivesome arrived a day or two ago from Galesburg, Ill., where Mr. Campbell has been a member of the Knox College faculty.

But next year Palo Alto, Calif., will be the home of the Campbells, for Mr. Campbell will be a member of the Stanford University faculty.

BEFORE we utter another word this morning we're going to tell you about guests who have arrived in town, and for whom courtesies have been and will be planned—

First we learned that Mrs. William Wilson and her three sons, Stephen, David and Billy, arrived from Denver on Monday evening to spend several days as the guests of Dr. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Claude S. Wilson.

From Lincoln the Denver foursome will go on to Detroit for a visit with Mrs. Wilson's family.

ALSO spending some time in Lincoln are Mr. and Mrs. William Baldwin and their daughters, Sarah and Barbara, who came from Muncie, Ind., on Monday to be the guests of Mrs. Baldwin's mother, Mrs. Edna DePutron.

Mrs. Baldwin and her younger daughter, Sarah, will remain in Lincoln for an extended visit, but Mr. Baldwin and Miss Barbara Baldwin will return to Muncie on Tuesday.

IN courtesy to Mrs. Baldwin and Miss Barbara, Mrs. E. C. Ames was a luncheon hostess on Wednesday when she entertained at the Lincoln Country Club. The mother-daughter guest list included a group of Mrs. Baldwin's former campus friends and their daughters.

TUESDAY night brought Mr. and Mrs. Don Horning and their children, Virginia Lou, Martha and George to Lincoln from Berkeley, Calif., to spend a few days with Mrs. Horning's father, Dr. George Walker. Mr. and Mrs. Horning and their family will remain in town through the week-end and then, accompanied by Dr. Walker, will leave for the east—the Hornings to Washington, D. C.—and Dr. Walker to Virginia.

IN courtesy to Mrs. Horning Mrs. Lloyd Cleveland will be a hostess this morning when she entertains at a 10:30 o'clock coffee at her home. The guest list will include a group of Mrs. Horning's (she was Margaret Walker) old school friends.

THURSDAY evening arrivals from Champaign, Ill., will be Mr. and Mrs. William Bouwsma and their four children, John, Philip, Paul and Sarah, who will be the house guests of Mr. Bouwsma's mother, Mrs. E. W. Hancock.

* * *

HEAR that when Mrs. William H. Browne, Jr., is a coffee hostess at her home on Friday morning, it will be to honor her sister, Mrs. Robert Bungard (Olive Grainger) of Fresno, Calif., who, with Mr. Bungard and their two children, will spend some time as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Browne.

Wednesday Wedding

MRS. RONALD WEDDLE

Lighted candles in seven-branched holders and arrangements of summer blossoms made an attractive background for the wedding of Miss Shirley Lentz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lentz of Beatrice, and Ronald Weddle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luan Weddle of Santa Fe, N. Mex., which took place at St. John's Lutheran Church in Beatrice on Wednesday evening, June 15. Dr. John Streng solemnized the 8 o'clock ceremony, and Miss Rachel Dettloff, organist, played the wedding music.

Wearing waltz-length princess frocks of rose-toned taffeta, the attendants were Mrs. Robert Martin, the matron of honor; Mrs. Donald Lentz, Miss Allene Davison and Miss Carol McCown, the bridesmaids. Each carried a cascade bouquet of summer flowers. Miss Nancee Dedrick and Miss Gwen Uran lighted the candles, and the flower girls were Pamela Martin and Marcia Martin.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white embroidered organdy designed with a fitted bodice in which a portrait neckline, contoured with embroidered scallops, slipped into brief sleeves. Side panniers of deeply scalloped ruffles gave added bouffancy to the wide skirt which swept into an aisle-wide train. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, and her double-tiered waist-length veil was held to the head with a Juliet cap of minutely pleated illusion dotted with seed pearls.

Donald Lentz served Mr. Weddle as best man, and seating the guests were Fred Johnson, Chanute, Kan.; Edgar Miner of Hays, Kan., and Robert Martin.

The bride attended Gulf Park College, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Mr. Weddle is a graduate of the University of Kansas and is a member of Delta Tau Delta.

The couple will be at home in Olathe, Kan., after July 1.

Leigh Cartwright Weds

MRS. JOSEPH MALEC

The marriage of Miss Leigh Cartwright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olden Jesse Cartwright of Omaha, to Ens. Joseph Malec, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Malec, also of Omaha, was an event of Wednesday evening, June 15. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized at the Dundee Presbyterian Church with Dr. Edward Stimson reading the lines before a background of greenery, accented with white gladioli, and lighted candles.

Delicate tones, shading from pale pink to mauve, were chosen for the costumes of the maid of honor, Miss Marilyn Hamer; and the six bridesmaids, Miss Lillian Kitzelman, Beatrice; Miss Joan Roe, Bennington; Miss Ann Skold, Kearney; Miss Juanita Gragg, Washington, D. C.; Miss Susanne Muller and Miss Marilyn Stanley.

Charles J. Malec served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Ens. Carl Taylor, Newport, R.I.; Ens. Wesley Saunders, Alexandria, Va.; Ens. James DeGroff, Bryant, O; Ens. Edward Smith, New York; Ens. Ray Johnson, Pensacola, Fla.; Ens. Scott McCauley, Omaha; Lt. Eldon Steele, Omaha; Bruce Barr, Naperville, Ill.; Ervin Malec, Robert Malec, Walter Nabity and Robert Darrah. Ens. Malec's brother officers formed an arch of crossed swords under which the bridal couple passed following the ceremony.

The bridal gown, fashioned of white silk organza and Alencon lace over blush pink, was designed with a sculptured bodice of the lace re-embroidered with pearls and crystal beads.

Ens. Malec and his bride will reside in Pensacola, Fla.

Mrs. Malec will be graduated this summer from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Ens. Malec was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis on June 3.

Beverly Beal Is Bride

MRS. RICHARD WELLER

Four hundred invitations were issued for the wedding of Miss Beverly Ann Beal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clinton Beal, and Richard Franklin Weller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Weller of Mitchell, S. D., which took place at an 8 o'clock ceremony on Wednesday evening, June 15, at the Westminster Presbyterian Church. Dr. Frederick Roblee read the lines before a background of cathedral candles and spreading arrangements of white gladioli. The wedding music was played by Miss Josephine Waddell, organist.

The attendants, Mrs. Richard Winslow, matron of honor; Miss Deni Bohrer, of Laurens, Ia., Mrs. L. N. Ragle of Denver, Colo., Miss Barbara Kokrda of Omaha, Miss Joan Hawthorne of Burwell, Miss Sandra Dickey of Columbus and Miss Marilyn Hammerstrom of Sioux City, Ia., the bridesmaids; wore identically styled taffeta frocks of pale pink deepening to rose tones. Their bandeaux of matching taffeta caught to the side of the head with clusters of shaded roses completed the costumes and they carried colonial bouquests of pink roses. Mrs. Mort Novak of Humboldt, and Mrs. James Blongewicz lighted the candles.

George Jensen of Rapid City, S. D., served as best man, and the ushers were Harris Poley, Omaha; Charles Lloyd, Mitchell, S. D.; L. N. Ragle, James E. Beal, and William Campbell.

A gown of Rosepoint lace and tulle was chosen by the bride for her wedding. Lace fashioned the fitted bodice, its portrait neckline contoured with pearls and rhinestones, and drifted into a hip-length peplum over the voluminous tulle skirt patterned at back and front with lace panels. A seed pearl tiara held to the head her double-tiered veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, centered with white orchids.

Following a reception in the church parlors, the couple left for Albuquerque, N. M., where Mr. Weller will be stationed at Kirkland Air Force Base.

Mrs. Weller attended the University of Colorado and is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Weller attended Stanford University and is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He received his masters degree from Wharton Graduate School of Finance and Commerce.

Married At Church Ceremonies

MRS. ROBERT L. WARD

MRS. EAUCLAIR ANDERSON

At an early evening ceremony solemnized Wednesday, June 15, in the chapel of St. Paul Methodist Church, Miss Bernita Kiger of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Kiger of Cisne, Ill., became the bride of Robert L. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Ward. In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, Dr. Frank A. Court read the lines of the service. The wedding music was played by Houghton Furr, organist, who also accompanied Don Inghram, the vocal soloist.

Miss Mary Lou Kiger, as her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Shirley Morisse, the bridesmaid, wore ballerina frocks of forget-me-not blue with frilled head bandeaux of matching net. They carried nosegays of white carnations. Dennis Kase was the ringbearer, and lighting the candles were Ronnie Kase and Billy Buchanan.

Serving Mr. Ward as best man was Robert Stoner, and the ushers were Bill Stoner and Homer Ward, Jr., brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white lace and nylon tulle. The brief sleeves were completed by long mitts of lace.

The altar of Epworth Methodist Church was appointed with bouquets of pink daisies and white gladioli for the marriage of Miss Delores Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Frazier, and Eauclair Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson of Merna, on Sunday afternoon, June 12. The 3 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. J. C. Lowson, and Howard Yates, organist, played the wedding music. Mr. Yates also accompanied Miss Yvonne Wright, the vocal soloist.

Wearing alike frocks of net and taffeta in pastel shades of green, pink and blue were Mrs. Gerald Hollis, the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Joann Vogel and Mrs. Donald Rutt. The attendants carried crescent arrangements of pink Majestic daisies. Miss Lynn Thompson was the flower girl, and the ringbearer was Gerald Frazier, brother of the bride.

Richard Thompson served Mr. Anderson as best man, and seating the guests were Robert Mudd of Anselmo, and Gerald Hollis.

White lace and net over taffeta fashioned the bride's ballerina-length gown. The decolletage of the snug lace bodice was filled in with illusion.

Demos To Speed Social Security Expansion Action

WASHINGTON & — Democrats on the House Ways and Means Committee agreed informally Wednesday to expedite action on a three-point expansion of the social security program.

They decided at a party huddle to draft legislation without public hearings and to start closed sessions as soon as possible, probably within the next 10 days.

To be included in the new legislation, if the Democratic majority has its way, would be these provisions:

1. Lowering of the retirement age for women from 65 to 62 years. This would make an estimated one million more women immediately eligible for social security payments.

2. Making eligible for full benefits persons fully insured but who become totally and permanently disabled before retirement age.

3. Continuing benefit payments to children after they reach the age of 18 if they are physically or mentally incapacitated to such an extent that they cannot become self-supporting. Existing law cuts off these payments at age 18.

The new legislation also may contain provisions making eligible for coverage, on a voluntary basis, self-employed or professional groups not now covered. However, there was no agreement among Democrats on such a provision.

U.S., Reds Hinted Moving Toward Formosan Peace

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan indicated Wednesday Red China and the United States are moving slowly toward negotiating "a peaceful outcome" of the Formosa dispute.

In a cautious statement to the House of Commons, he told of secret discussions which British and Indian envoys have been conducting with leaders of the Peiping regime on the danger-packed problem.

Recently, Macmillan said, there has been "a substantial reduction of hostile action and propaganda" over the future of the prized island held by the Chinese Nationalists and claimed by the Chinese Communists.

Airliner Lands OK; 55 Aboard

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—A Pan American World Airways trans-Pacific airliner, which developed engine trouble with 55 persons aboard on a flight from Honolulu to the Pacific Northwest, landed safely in San Francisco Wednesday.

The big airliner touched down at 12:42 p.m. PDT and the passengers, after lunch at the airport, took off on another plane for the flight to Portland.

The plane's commander, Capt. Roy Holm of Seattle, radioed at 9:35 a.m. for a Coast Guard aircraft to escort the airliner into the San Fransico International Airport. Holm took the action after the plane's number two engine began "backfiring."

Lack Of Volunteers

PEORIA, Ill.(INS) — City of Peoria Civil Defense workers ignored the national mock hydrogen bomb attack in protest against "mid-week tests." Marvin L. Merritt, CD director, said "we just can't get volunteers to absent themselves from their jobs and lose their pay check to participate."

Chiefs Dropped Twice, 4-2, 8-4

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Pueblo swept both ends of a Western League doubleheader from second place Lincoln Wednesday night, using six extra-base hits to blast the Chiefs in the nightcap, 8-4, after grabbing the opener, 4-2.

The double victory vaulted the Dodgers over Des Moines into fourth place as the Bruins split a doubelheader with Colorado Springs.

Mike Rodriguez pitched a steady eight-hitter in the opener to win his fourth mound victory of the campaign.

The second game was halted for 22 minutes in the sixth inning because of rain. The Chiefs led at that point, 3-2. When play resumed, Lincoln picked up another run that the Dodgers matched in their half of the frame.

Pueblo pulled from behind in the seventh with a three-run barrage marked by four hits, including Fred Storck's second home run of the game.

The Dodgers scored twice more in the eighth when Bill Gabler hit his third double.

Pedro Almenares also hit a round-tripper for the Dodgers, his coming in the fourth inning with none on.

Lincoln picked up a pair in the first inning and another in the second. The Chiefs' best weapons were Warren Goodrich and Dick Hall, each with a pair of singles.

Roger Wright came on in relief for Pueblo the second time in as many nights and was credited with his second victory, holding Lincoln hitless the final three innings.

In the opener, Rodriguez went the route to give Pueblo its second straight over the invading Chieftains.

He was touched for a solo homer by Frank Rice in the second inning, the Chiefs' lone extra-base blow of the opener, but pitched shutout ball until the sixth. Lincoln got its second run in that frame when Harry Dunlop singled, moved to third on two infield outs, and tallied on Warren Goodrich's safety.

Pueblo collected three of its runs in the third inning on two walks and singles by Bill Gabler and Clarence Moore.

The Dodgers' final run came in the fifth when Rodriguez doubled and was plated by Fred Storck's two-bagger.

Dick Hall went the route for Lincoln and gave up only six hits in losing his third game against six wins this campaign.

The Chiefs will throw Benny Daniels (4-3) or Dick Drilling (7-3) at the Dodgers' Jim Mertlik (2-2) in the fourth game of the series Thursday night.

Wake Forest Gains Finals

OMAHA (AP)—Wake Forest moved into the championship game of the NCAA World Series Wednesday night with a 2 to 0 win over Oklahoma A. and M. as Lefty John Stokoe held the Aggies to four hits and fanned nine.

Wake Forest meets Western Michigan tonight for the championship. The two teams have split a pair of games in the tourney thus far.

Stokoe, rated as the No. 3 pitcher for the Deacons, had complete command over the Aggies, never giving more than one hit an inning: He was faced by Bob Garrett, an[illegible]ie lefty, who gave up but thr[illegible]its but suffered from faulty support as the Ags made four errors.

Giving Them Fitz

By Bill Fitzgerald

A Rookie's Odyssey

The kid who batted five-o-nine for Powder Valley Prep
Got a contract with St. Louis on the basis of that rep.
A famous scout came out and signed him on the dotted line
And told him of the majors and the sluggers of his time.
The kid went home and lay awake
in room with trophies lain,
He saw stadiums of patrons who would fight to shout his name,
And there would be smooth infields,
grass grown and always kept,
Where a shortstop never missed a ball and fielding marks were set.
But they farmed him out to Rocky
Mt., "the finer points to learn,"
To Rocky Mt. in southern hills,
the techniques to discern;
To Rocky Mt. where trains don't stop and life is rather slow,
Where citizens from boredom to the baseball park would go.
The infield sported ditches, the grass did not appear.
The clubhouse was a cowshed,
its residents quite near;
The manager a faded star who drank defeats away,
The traveling bus a relic of the days of Doubleday.
The kid kicked one on opening night and fanned with three on base.
His glove was tissue paper, he was hopeless with the mace.
There were rumbles in the grandstand: "Who is this guy out there?
"Bring back the guy who played last year, this one ain't got a prayer."
But he labored through the summer and got up to .293.
He solved the infield roughness with glove ranged loose and free.
He dreamed of salary raises and a boost to bigger parks
Where grow to stardom rookies who have made their minor marks.
Then in snowtime back in the old home town
Came the contract which would send him upward in a bound.
Instead it mentioned Rocky Mt.
and another year in grade,
So the pride of Powder Valley could develop at the trade.
Oh, the life of a rookie is a forlorn thing.
Low pay, poor parks and ex-
stars on the wing,
And the guy who makes the majors and a piece of baseball fame
Has paid dearly in the minors where the glamour's all in name.

Tigers Stave Off Yank Rally To Score 8-6 Win

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers battered rookies Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant for all their runs and hits in the first four innings to defeat the New York Yankees 8-6 but had to stave off a desperate ninth inning rally to even the series with the league leaders at one victory apiece.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft, with the aid of home runs by Jim Delsing and Frank House, struggled to his sixth triumph although he needed help from Babe Birrer in the ninth.

The Yankees outhit the Tigers 12-11 but the Tigers bunched four of them into the second against Kucks for three runs and ganged up on Sturdivant with a four-hit four-run assault in the fourth to take an early 8-1 lead.

The Yankees, in a real oddity, made just one hit in each of the first seven innings, but scored only in the second and sixth. Each time it was on a home run by Eddie Robinson, the big first baseman's 12th and 13th of the season.

A triple by Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard's run-scoring fly cut Detroit's Margin to 8-3 in the eighth. Hoeft retired after giving up a single and a walk to the first two batters in the ninth. Birrer retired the next two batters but yielded a two-run double to pinch hitter Irv Norden before Robinson flied out to end the game.

Bosox Defeat Athletics 9-6

BOSTON (AP) — Lefty Mel Parnell, plagued by injuries for the past two seasons, needed ninth inning relief from Tom Hurd Wednesday to pitch the Boston Red Sox to a 9-6 victory over Kansas City.

Jackie Jensen's two-run homer featured the 11-safety Sox attack.

Hurd came on when Parnell weakened for four runs in the ninth. Until then Mel had yielded only five hits and two runs on homers by Gus Zernial and Billy Renna.

Hurd walked pinch hitter Elmer Valo but got Zernial on a routine fly ball to end the game.

Bill Wilson led off the A's ninth with his eighth homer for the third Kansas City run. Billy Goodman's two errors on the same play let in another pair and Vic Power singled in the fourth.

Parnell's first victory was Boston's seventh in its last eight games.

Mel, out much of last year with a broken wrist and this year with a knee injury, had pitched only 6 2-3 innings in his two previous appearances.

Chisox Split On Fox Homer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Nellie Fox's homer, his second Wednesday night and one of his six hits in the doubleheader sent the Chicago White Sox on the way to a 2-0 victory after losing the first game to the Baltimore Orioles, 6-5. Bobby Young's single scored Gil Coan in the eighth inning to break a tie in the first game.

Manager Marty Marion, needing the second victory to stay within two games of the league-leading New York Yankees, called on three of his ace pitchers, Mike Fornieles, who got credit for the triumph, Billy Pierce and Sandy Consuegra to quell the Orioles. Baltimore broke Chicago's four-game winning streak in the first game.

Woodling, Cox Sent To Tribe As Swap 'Deadline' Presses

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians, defending American League champs, and the cellar-dwelling Baltimore Orioles figured in the major trade of the day as a few other major league clubs tried desperately to swing deals before the midnight deadline Wednesday.

The Indians, battling to ward off the charge of the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox, acquired outfielder Gene Woodling and third baseman Billy Cox from Baltimore in exchange for utility outfielders Wally Westlake and Dave Pope and a bundle of cash.

Aside from the Indians-Orioles transaction, the trading was light. The Detroit Tigers, in need of a first baseman with both Ferris Fain and Jack Phillips hobbled by knee injuries, purchased veteran Earl Torgeson from the Philadelphia Phillies for an estimated $25,000. Leo Cristante, a righthanded relief pitcher, was optioned to Buffalo to make room for the bespectacled first baseman.

White Sox, Tribe Talk

Pittsburgh shipped third baseman George Freese and pitcher Ben Wade to Hollywood and brought up southpaw Lino Donoso from the Pacific Coast League.

Another big trade, involving the Indians and White Sox, was reported to be in

Bell's Bat Leads Reds Past Brooklyn By 5-2

CINCINNATI (AP)—Gus Bell's bat boomed the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 5-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers Wednesday night. Rookie Rudy Minarcin's bid for a shutout over the National League leaders was broken by Junior Gilliam's home run in the ninth inning.

Bell accounted for three of the Reds' seven hits off loser Carl Erskine, knocking in a trio of runs with a single, double and home run. Bobby Adams drove in the other pair with a two-bagger.

Minarcin shackled the Dodgers for eight innings on two scattered hits and a walk. But he weakened in the ninth, opening the frame with a walk. Then came Gilliam's fifth homer of the season and another hit before the 25-year-old righthander settled down to strike out his fourth victim and get the last man to ground out.

He had retired the 13 first batters he faced. Minarcin's last decision was a 6-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates June 4.

Giel Gains First Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Reliefer Paul Giel, ex-Minnesota All-America footballer, scored his first major league victory Wednesday as he started the New York Giants to a five-run spree in the ninth for a 7-2 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

The victory shaved second-place Chicago's margin to only one and one-half games over the Giants, who just a year ago Wednesday moved into first place for keeps in their National League pennant drive.

Giel had an 0-0 record last year when the Giants signed him out of Minnesota and was 0-1 this season.

Giel's hot two-bagger launched the big Giant ninth to break a 2-2 tie and hang the season's third loss on Cub starter Paul Minner, who has won five

Billy Peacock Upsets Macias

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Billy (Sweetpea) Peacock, 121½ of Los Angeles, Wednesday night knocked out the National Boxing Assn. bantamweight champion, Raoul (Raton) Macias, 122¾, of Mexico City, in the third round of their scheduled 10-round non-title bout.

Macias was on the floor twice in the third round. The first time he hit the deck for a one-count from a right smash to the jaw. The knockout was a rapier-like left on the right side of Macias' jaw. It seemed to paralyze him and he fell on his face, his gloves keeping his head off the floor.

The Mexican boy had the best of it in the first two rounds. There was very little action in the first, the boxers being content to feel each other out. Macias suffered a slight bruise under the right eye halfway through the first as Peacock tagged him with an overhand left.

The first real exchange in close, which came in the second round, was all to Macias' advantage. He scored repeatedly with jolting lefts to the body. Peacock's nose was bleeding and he seemed unable to fathom Macias' lightning jabs and uppercuts.

The whole complexion of the fight changed in the third. Peacock went out swinging and kept in close. He took several hard rights and lefts to the jaw, but he kept boring in and after both boys had slugged away without a clinch for about a minute, Peacock got the upper hand and nailed Macias with a right to the jaw.

Macias' Jaw Broken

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Raul (Raton) Macias, Mexican fighter who is NBA bantamweight champion of the world, suffered a broken jaw in the bout he lost on a knockout Wednesday night to Billy Peacock.

Golf's 'Old Guard' Set For 'Last Stand' Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Golf's "Old Guard," symbolized by limping Ben Hogan and unpredictable Sam Snead, makes what may be its final stand against onrushing youth in the 55th National Open championship beginning today at the Olympic Club.

Hogan, 42, tired, stiff-legged from a near-fatal automobile accident six years ago, and with the look of eagles no longer in his eyes, is making another determined stab at his fifth Open title—which would put him above Bob Jones as the winningest of Open champions.

He still is viewed with respect and fear—although to a lessening degree—by his fellow pros.

"It's not just beating him physically," said young Dick Mayer. "We still have to beat him mentally."

Snead, 43, with the build of a halfback and the strength of an ox, but dulled by repeated knockouts in the past, is still shooting for Open championship No. 1. One of the game's all-time greats from tee to green, he apparently has conquered a putting complex.

Behind these two tee titans of a couple of decades come a horde of what the veteran Gene Sarazen has ermed "young hungry wolves lusting for fame and fortune.

This group is headed by a sandy-haired San Diego, Calif., sphinx named Gene Littler, hailed as the sport's bright new hope, and a barrel-chested former Duke University football player named Mike Souchak, who shattered all-time scoring records in the spring.

In between is sandwiched a formidable collection of precisionists who have been dubbed "the forgotten thirties" because of their age group. And there's strong betting that the new champion will come from this list which includes lame-armed Ed Furgol, the surprise winner at Baltusrol last year; Masters champion Cary Middlecoff, Dick Mayer, Jack Burke and others.

Most observers concede that there are 25 men in the field of 162 who might walk off with the $5,000 first prize, which is worth infinitely more in prestige.

Ton-Mile Tax Axed, 16-26; Registration Fee Hike Okayed

The Nebraska Legislature Wednesday snowed under a proposed ton-mile tax on trucks which supporters predicted would have brought in an additional $1,500,000 yearly for state highway construction.

The vote on LB 362 was 16 to 26, with one member not voting.

The defeat of the ton-mile bill came shortly after the lawmakers had approved a registration fee increase for trucks and lighter weight passenger cars.

Vote Reversed

The vote on this measure, LB 519, was exactly the reverse of that on the ton-mile bill, with 26 senators favoring the higher registration fees and 16 opposed.

The registration fee bill is expected to bring in about $825,000 a year in new revenue for highway purposes. Of this figure, $625,000 will come from the higher truck fees and $200,000 from the increase on passenger cars which weigh under 3,000 pounds.

The truck fee increase is on a graduated scale, and ranges in amount from $1.25 a year on half-tone vehicles to $125 a year for 25-ton trucks.

The increase for lighter-weight passenger cars which now pay only $6 a year is $2, making the passenger car registration fee uniform for all makes and weights.

The ton-mile bill probably was the most discussed and one of the most bitterly fought bills of the session.

When the voting was over, the introducer, Sen. Lester Anderson of Aurora, charged "powerful lobbies did it — there's no other answer. It was the money spent. You can't beat money."

The motor carriers entertained legislators twice at large dinners during the session. The most recent was only last week.

Former Gov. Robert Crosby, spokesman for the Better Nebraska Association, which actively supported measures to raise more money for highways, said he was pleased with passage of LB 519, the registration fee bill.

'Got to Face Problem'

But defeat of LB 362, the ton-mile bill, leaves Nebraska "still in a bad way as far as finances are concerned," Crosby continued. He said "trucker pressure" had been reponsible for vote changes.

"Sooner or later they've got to face up to the problem of taxing trucks," he declared.

The registration fee bill as it came out of Revenue Committee proposed double the amount of increase for trucks that LB 519 now provides. The measure was amended on the floor to cut the proposed increases in half.

The weight-distance, or ton-mile, bill would have applied only to trucks licensed to carry over 15 tons.

While naturally opposed to any increase in taxes, the carriers were considered to regard LB 519 as the "lesser of two evils."

In debate on the floor, opponents of the ton-mile proposal contended it would be costly to collect and predicted it would fall far short of supporters' estimates of the revenue it would produce.

One senator, Frank Nelson of O'Neill, filed a written statement explaining his opposition to both bills.

He noted that under LB 187, the highway law streamlining bill, many miles of road in his district will be dropped from the state-maintained system.

"My contention is that in passing these bills my people would be getting less service, yet paying greater fees," he declared.

Wheat Acre Allotment Compliance Date Passes With Results Unknown

The deadline day was Wednesday for compliance with wheat acreage allotments for producers in central and western Nebraska.

But in the opinion of state Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) officials, it will be a week or more before it will be dependably known what percentage of farmers have complied.

The wheat growing picture in the west and central regions this year has been unusually complicated by early spring drought, rust and other crop adversity, according to Charles B. Clark State ASC production adjustment official. In the past Nebraska compliance has uniformly run more than 90 per cent.

Eastern Nebraska had its acreage allotment deadline June 1.

Clark pointed out that early season crop losses would tend to bring overplanted farms into compliance. But he saw no reliable index from compliance results with the outcome of the June 25 referendum on marketing quotas.

"I don't belive we could draw any conclusion on allotment compliance and marketing quotas," he said, adding:

"In 1953 Nebraska had more than 95 per cent compliance and later carried marketing quotas by 83 per cent. In contrast the state's compliance in 1954 was 95 per cent, but it rejected quotas with a 56 per cent favorable vote when 67 per cent was required to carry."

A farmer who complies with his acreage allotment becomes eligible for government price support loans and a wheat marketing card. Noncompliance rules out a loan and prevents marketing of bushels harvested in excess of the marketing quota.

Solons Approve $3,612 To Pay For Investigation

The Legislature Wednesday approved $3,612.45 including $1,805.81 for the committee counsel in expenses of the special investigating committee which probed alleged improper practices in connection with proposed legislation.

In addition, the attorney general paid Rush Clark, who was later employed as the committee counsel, $432.75 in salary and expenses. This was for obtaining the statements read to the Revenue Committee that culminated in the resolution calling for the investigation. This makes the total paid Clark $2,238.56.

The Unicameral on recommendation of the investigators, voted to "censure, reprimand and condemn" one of its members, Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, for "unethical conduct" in connection with a proposed "juke box bill" which he had considered introducing.

Chairman Brower explained that the major portion of the committee's expense was the $100-a-day fee of Clarke, a North Platte attorney.

Sen. John Adams of Omaha protested the $1,805 bill was "exhorbitant and unfair to the Legislature."

Other expense items:

Dorsey D. Baird, court reporter, $1,078.50; Leslie D. Carter, assistant to Clarke, $404.35; witness and mileage fees, $261.20; Eunice V. Bradley, committee clerk, $50; and telephone calls by Committee Chairman Robert Brower, $12.59.

Bill To Accelerate Redistricting OKd

The Legislature Wednesday passed a bill designed to accelerate school redistricting in Nebraska. The measure, passed by a 33 to 6 vote, revises the present school reorganization statutes.

One provision of the bill authorizes the State Reorganization Committee to dissolve a county committee that has failed to submit an acceptable reorganization plan during a two year period. The provision was drafted in an attempt to force inactive county committees into action.

Another provision changes appointment of State Reorganization Committee members from the governor's to the State Board of Education's hands.

The list of bills passed Wednesday:

LB 398. Cramer, Metzger, Peterson. Amending state school reorganization act. 33-6.

LB 247. Judiciary Committee. Providing that State Highway Department shall maintain bridges over 60 feet long on state highways within cities. 36-3.

LB 519. Bixler. Increasing motor vehicle registration fees; revising motor vehicle registration statutes. 36-16.

U.S., 3 Nations Sign A-Research Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States signed atomic research agreements with three other countries Wednesday and President Eisenhower pledged its "unremitting co-operation" in seeking permanent peace through the atom.

Agreements were concluded with Great Britain, Canada and Belgium, nations which already have participated in Western development of atomic energy.

The President and officials of each nation participated in the signing ceremony at the White House. Similar arrangements have been completed with 17 other countries. All provide for give and take in research on peaceful applications of atomic energy—for power, medical treatment and the like.

Such mutual cooperation was authorized by last year's congressional revision of U. S. atomic energy legislation. The President said these agreements "lengthen the reach of cooperation among us looking toward the civil uses of atomic energy."

Eisenhower noted that Britain and Canada helped produce the first release of nuclear energy and that Canada and Belgium have been important suppliers of uranium, the raw material from which the energy is developed.

Program Accelerating

"The pace of progress toward the goal of the atoms-for-peace program is accelerating," Eisenhower said. "Important events are just ahead, such as the international conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy at Geneva in August.

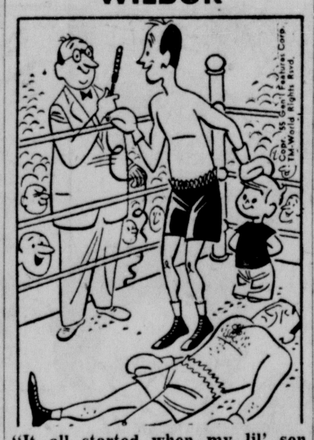

"Again on this occasion, as many times earlier, I pledge the unrelenting cooperation of this nation to realize the benefits of atomic energy as a measure to promote lasting peace."

Each agreement takes effect in 30 days unless Congress specifically registers disapproval.

No exchange of information on military uses of the atom is provided for, but both classified and unclassified data may be traded on peaceful applications. The United States will furnish some atomic materials. In addition, a separate White House statement said the transfer of "equipment devices... under prudent safeguards would be possible."

Only 19 Of 378 Non-State Carriers Paid 1954 Tax

State Tax Commissioner Fred-Herrington Wednesday said that of 378 non-Nebraska interstate carriers observed at three truck weighing stations last week only 19 paid taxes in Nebraska last year.

The law requires interstate truckers not based in Nebraska to pay a tax in the state based on mileage, size of trucks, and the average state tax levy. Only 46 carriers reported for the tax last year.

Herrington posted a field man last week to observe the amount of interstate truckers passing the weighing station. He observed 378 interstate carriers during the week at the North Platte and Waverly stations.

The field man will continue the observations for the next 10 days, the tax commissioner said.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS — By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Senator Bricker is still doing sentry duty on the executive dotted line. He wants to limit any President's international signature to passport pictures on Park Lake swan-boats.

That means another blow-out patch on the Constitution without affecting Yalta or any other why-station.

One thing to remember about diplomacy or draw poker is you always have to include the discard in the next deal.

We know the Yalta document shouldn't have lasted longer than a strange cat in a butcher shop.

Here's the spot in the Constitution where the parliamentary loophole throws a figure eight. It's Paragraph 2, Section 2, and goes this-away, "He shall have power, by and with the consent of the Senate to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur."

It means by "present" that three senators can be a working quorum. And two of them can ratify a treaty.

Two Nebraskans Hurt In UP Streamliner Crash

From Press Reports

FORT MORGAN, Colo. — Two Nebraskans were injured, one seriously, Wednesday when a Union Pacific streamliner, the Los Angeles Challenger, plunged off a section of flooded tracks six miles east of here.

Everett A. McGraw of North Platte, road foreman, was listed in serious condition with a back injury.

Stanley Murrell of Omaha was treated for undetermined injuries.

The derailment caused one death —that of George F. Hobusch Jr., of Sandy, Utah, an electrician on the train.

At least three persons, including McGraw, were injured seriously. The injured were taken to hospitals in Fort Morgan and Brush, Colo.

Fort Morgan firemen and other volunteers used boats to bring many of the injured out of wrecked coaches. Ten coaches and three diesel units left the rails but only the locomotive, the two units behind it and a sleeper overturned.

A flash flood caused by torrential rains during the night swept down an old channel of the creek and spread water across rails. About 200 feet of trackage was washed out.

Muddy water flowed into some of the derailed coaches and made rescue operations difficult.

The streamliner, bound from Chicago to Los Angeles, was being re-routed through Sterling, Colo., because of track washouts 30 miles east of Cheyenne.

A Union Pacific headquarters spokesman in Omaha said the streamliner had been following closely behind two other trains that went through without trouble.

The Challenger engineer rounded a curve to find the tracks under water and was unable to stop in time to prevent the derailment.

Fire Agents Give Money For Play Area Equipment

The Lincoln Association of Fire and Casualty Agents has given the city $2,618 to be used for the purchase of playground equipment in four city parks.

The funds will be distributed according to the Association's stipulations, which were:

University Place Park, $796.
Havelock, $513.
Ninth and Claremont, $796.
Bethany, $513.

The donation represents the Association's profit realized on its fire and casualty insurance coverage on city buildings. Last year, such Association profits were used for the purchase of gas masks for the fire deparment.

Bramblett Is Fined, But Escapes Jail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Ernest K. Bramblett (R-Calif) was fined Wednesday but escaped going to jail for rigging his office payroll in a salary kickback scheme.

Bramblett

Federal Judge Walter M. Bastian fined Bramblett $5,000 and sentenced him to one year in jail. But the judge suspended the sentence and placed Bramblett on probation for a year.

Bastian, who presided at Bramblett's trial early in 1954, told the ex-lawmaker:

Not Undeserved

"You have suffered a great deal as a result of this prosecution. However, I won't say that it was undeserved. The government suffered the loss of money."

Edward Bennett Williams, Bramblett's attorney, pictured Bramblett as a man whose "fine reputation built up over 50 years suffered destruction."

"He has lost his seat in Congress," Williams said. "His wife and three sons have suffered the sting of public humiliation. He has been unable to get gainful employment."

Served 4 Years

Bramblett, 54, who served four years in the House but did not seek re-election last November, was convicted of falsely representing to the House disbursing office that Mrs. Margaret M. Swanson worked for him as a clerk.

Mrs. Swanson, of Arlington, Va., testified in the trial that she never did any work for Bramblett connected with his official duties.

Mrs. Swanson's husband, Irving Swanson, a former House employe, said he kicked back his wife's salary, holding out only enough to take care of his higher income tax bill as a result of it.

Grain Prices Jump In Closing Spurt

CHICAGO (AP)—In a closing spurt of buying grain prices jumped frequently more than a cent above previous finals Wednesday.

Only rye lagged and even that grain recovered completely from earlier lows.

The bears attempted to extend their advantage during the day's quieter periods but lost out in the final upsurge of buying sentiment.

Lard was helped by new nine-month high prices on live hogs.

Grains and soybeans took courage from new authorizations to reduce surpluses thru exports.

At the finish wheat was ¼—1¼ higher, July $2.01⅛—¼; corn was ⅝—1⅛ higher July $1.43⅝—½; oats were ¼—1⅝ higher, July 66⅞—67, and rye was ¼ lower to ¼ higher, July $1.05¾—1.06.

Soybeans were ¼ to 1 cent higher, July $2.44¾—2.45, and lard was 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.70 to 12.75.

This is a very attractive modern motel constructed as a unit, containing 7 lovely rooms, all very well furnished, and provides sleeping accommodations for 24 persons. Heat is by natural gas and panel ray heaters.
The grounds have attractive trees and shrubbery, good drives with plenty of car parking, large neon front sign and a number of hiway signs.
In addition to the motel there is a 7-room residence with full basement, automatic gas fired furnace and modern thruout. All woodwork and trim is oak; the construction is tile with outside in white stucco. There is a complete laundry in the basement, with washer, dryer and mangle.
This property includes 3½ acres, with plenty of room for expansion if desired.
The cities of Blue Springs and Wymore are as one city as they join. There are good schools and churches of many denominations. U.S. 77 is a Canada to Gulf highway, and is a heavy traveled tourist road.
If you are interested in a good motel investment be sure to attend this sale, as it positively sells to the highest and best bidder. Terms 20% day of sale, possession on settlement. Conveyance by warranty deed and bill of sale. 19
